Streamex Announces Official Launch Date of GLDY, a Yield Bearing Gold-Backed Tokenized Security

GLDY will launch February 25, 2026, introducing an institutional-grade yield generating gold backed asset

WINTER PARK, Fla., Feb. 18, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Streamex Corp. ("Streamex") (NASDAQ: STEX), a commodity focused real-world asset tokenization company, today announced the official launch date of GLDY, a gold-backed, tokenized security designed to provide exposure to physical gold while generating yield. GLDY is scheduled to launch on February 25, 2026.

Henry McPhie, Co-Founder & Chief Executive Officer of Streamex, said: "For decades, investors have accepted that holding gold comes with a cost, whether through storage, insurance, or ETF management fees. GLDY fundamentally changes that equation. After more than three and a half years of building the infrastructure, we've created a product that allows investors to maintain 1:1 exposure to physical gold and earn yield distributed as additional units of gold monthly."

Beginning February 25, 2026, eligible investors will be able to onboard and purchase GLDY directly through app.streamex.com, subject to applicable compliance requirements.

Overview of GLDY

GLDY is a gold-backed, tokenized security that provides 1:1 exposure to physical gold while targeting up to a 4% annualized yield, paid in additional gold monthly. Yield is generated through gold leasing with Monetary Metals, enabling investors to earn yield while maintaining direct exposure to gold.
