Westell Technologies Announces Agreement to Sell Its CNS Division to NETGEAR

AURORA, Ill.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Westell Technologies, Inc. (NASDAQ: WSTL), a leading provider of broadband products, outside plant telecommunications equipment and conferencing services, today announced that it has entered into a definitive agreement to sell substantially all of the assets of Westell's Customer Networking Solutions division (other than certain retained business and Westell's HomeCloud business) to NETGEAR, Inc. for $33.5 million in cash, subject to certain adjustments. For the 12 months ended December 31, 2010, revenue attributable to the CNS business being sold was approximately $39.5 million and revenue attributable to the retained CNS business was approximately $40.4 million. The retained business is expected to account for significant revenue in Westell's fiscal year ending March 31, 2012. The transaction is subject to a number of closing conditions, including Westell having obtained specified third-party consents. The transaction is expected to close during the second calendar quarter of 2011.

"The sale of our CNS business completes a major strategic step for Westell," said Rick Gilbert, Westell's chairman and chief executive officer. "It allows us to focus on our more profitable Outside Plant Systems and Conference Plus divisions. We are extremely proud of the remarkable progress that CNS has made over the last two years, and we are confident that the operation will continue to provide outstanding products and customer service as part of NETGEAR. At the same time, this is clearly the right thing to do for our shareholders."
