Chanticleer Holdings Announces Opening of First Seattle Little Big Burger

Continued Little Big Burger Brand Growth on Track to Nearly Double in 2018

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Oct. 09, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Chanticleer Holdings, Inc. (NASDAQ:BURG) ("Chanticleer" or the "Company"), owner, operator, and franchisor of multiple nationally recognized better burger restaurant brands, today announced the opening of its newest Little Big Burger ("LBB") in Wallingford, Seattle.

Adrian Oca, Regional Vice President of Chanticleer Holdings, stated, "We are pleased to further expand our LBB footprint for our loyal customer base in the Pacific Northwest. The Seattle market offers a tremendous opportunity to expand our presence, and we are eager to bring our brand to the dynamic community of Wallingford."

This location is its first in Seattle and is part of Chanticleer's 10-store commitment in the Pacific Northwest, with funding provided by the Company's financial partner.

The 2,200 sq. ft. restaurant will be situated at the base of the Smith & Burns building on 45th and Interlake Ave. N., just a mile and half away from the University of Washington. Wallingford, Seattle's north-central neighborhood bordering Lake Union, is a popular commercial and residential district known for its assortment of shops, boutiques and restaurants.

Mike Pruitt, Chairman and CEO of Chanticleer Holdings, commented, "Today's announcement represents more tangible progress towards our stated 2018 and beyond goal of achieving profitable growth while expanding franchising, driving cash flow, monetizing non-core business and strengthening our balance sheet. We look forward to announcing additional LBB openings soon."
