

Everything Blockchain Broadens Global Reach with First International Patent for EB Control

Patent exemplifies company's commitment to share innovation and advancements with the worldwide community

Jacksonville, Florida, March 13, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Everything Blockchain Inc., (OTCMKTS: EBZT), a technology company that is blending blockchain, DBMS and Zero Trust to deliver disruptive new ways to store, manage and protect data, today announced that it has been granted patent number CN 114175580 B, "Enhanced Secure Encryption and Decryption System," by China's Patent Office. EBI remains committed to delivering the international business community a zero trust data access and protection solution that ensures chain of custody across the life of the data.

"The granting of this foundational patent for EB Control represents another step in protecting our IP on a global scale as we continue expanding internationally," said Toney Jennings, Chief Executive Officer, EBI. "Each patent secured puts another stake in the ground as we ensure that the protection of data is accessible to all."

EB Control is experiencing traction across international markets, including those in MENA, Europe and APAC.

"What makes EB Control such a game changer for businesses is that it automates the management of encryption keys at scale," said Brandon Hart, Chief Technology Officer, EBI. "By generating unique keys that only exist at the time encryption takes place, the security protections that surround data are significantly elevated, without requiring the technical acumen of the data owner to be high."

EBI is fully dedicated to providing our customers and partners the most innovative and powerful data protection solutions on the market.
