Mr. Ian Walsh brings 35 years of extensive leadership experience in the commercial aerospace and defense industry.

"We are pleased to welcome Ian Walsh to our Board. Ian's current role as Chief Executive Officer of FDH Aero and track record of strong leadership experience across both private and public enterprises illustrate the highly relevant operational and strategic expertise he brings. His addition further strengthens and enhances the Board, and we expect he will be a strong contributor as we advance our strategy to return to growth, deliver improved profitability, and strengthen return on invested capital," commented Laura Dempsey Brown, Chair of the Board.

Mr. Walsh brings 35 years of extensive leadership experience in the commercial aerospace and defense industry. Prior to his role at FDH Aero, he served as President, CEO, and Chairman of the Board at Kaman Aerospace Corporation (formerly NYSE: KAMN), a global manufacturer of highly engineered subassemblies, components and parts. Before Kaman, he was the Chief Operating Officer for the REV Group (NYSE: REVG), a leading manufacturer of specialty vehicles, overseeing 30+ brands and 22 manufacturing facilities producing fire engines, ambulances, recreational vehicles, and commercial buses.

Mr. Walsh spent 20 years at Textron Inc. (NYSE: TXT) where he led TRU Simulation + Training as the President and Chief Executive Officer, providing flight simulation and aircraft training products to the global commercial, civil and military aviation training markets. He also served on Textron's Executive Leadership Team. Earlier roles at Textron included senior vice president and general manager of Textron Systems' Weapon & Sensor Systems and several leadership roles at Textron Systems including senior vice president of operations, and senior vice president and general manager of Lycoming Engines. He began his Textron career in marketing at Bell Helicopter. Prior to joining Textron, Mr. Walsh served as an officer and naval aviator in the U.S. Marine Corps from 1989 to 1996, piloting Cobra attack helicopters with combat tours in Somalia, Haiti and Bosnia. He is an active pilot with more than 2,000 hours of flight time and is commercially rated in helicopters and fixed-wing aircraft. Walsh earned a bachelor's degree from Hamilton College, a Master of Public Administration from Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government and a Master of Business Administration from the Harvard Business School. He completed Textron's Global Leadership Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School and the Senior Executive Leadership Training at Duke's Fuqua School of Business. Mr. Walsh is a life member on the Council of Foreign Relations and is a certified Six Sigma Black Belt in operations.
