ATA Announces Results for Fiscal Second Quarter 2009

BEIJING, Nov. 11 /Xinhua-PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- ATA Inc. ("ATA" or the "Company") (Nasdaq: ATAI), the leading provider of computer-based testing and testing-related services in China, today announced its unaudited financial results for its fiscal second quarter ended September 30, 2008 ("Second Quarter 2009").

Second Quarter 2009 Highlights

- Net revenues increased by 3.9% year-over-year to approximately RMB51.7 million (US$7.6 million).
- Gross profit increased by 15.7% year-over-year to approximately RMB34.4 million (US$5.1 million).
- Income from operations decreased by 12.2% year-over-year to approximately RMB8.8 million (US$1.3 million).
- Net income decreased by 10.3% year-over-year to approximately RMB8.3 million (US$1.2 million).
- Net income excluding share-based compensation expense and foreign currency exchange gain (losses) (non-GAAP) was flat at approximately RMB9.7 million (US$1.4 million) year over year.
- Basic and diluted earnings per common share were RMB0.18 (US$0.03) and RMB0.18 (US$0.03), respectively, and basic and diluted earnings per ADS were RMB0.36 (US$0.06) and RMB0.36 (US$0.06), respectively. Basic and diluted earnings per common share excluding share-based compensation expense and foreign currency exchange gain (losses) (non-GAAP) were RMB0.21 (US$0.03) and RMB0.21 (US$0.03), respectively, and basic and diluted earnings per ADS excluding share-based compensation expense and foreign currency exchange gain (losses) (non-GAAP) were RMB0.41 (US$0.06) and RMB0.41 (US$0.06), respectively. Each ADS represents two common shares of the Company.
- For the quarter, ATA delivered approximately 1.5 million tests which was flat compared to the same period last year. In addition, average revenue per test decreased to RMB9.8 from RMB13.4 in the same period last year because the China Banking Association tests were not offered in second quarter 2009.

"Our core business has proven to be robust in this difficult global economic environment, and on a comparable pro forma basis -- that is, adjusted for changes to the scheduling of the China Banking Association test -- we continued to grow at a fast rate in the second quarter of fiscal year 2009," said Kevin Ma, ATA's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. "Excluding the shift in timing of the China Banking Association test which last year was offered in the quarter ended September and this year was offered earlier, in the quarter ended June, our pro-forma comparable revenue growth rate was approximately 48% year over year. In addition, despite the volatility in the China stock market, our securities market related exam takers increased to approximately 220,000 this quarter compared to 6,000 in the same quarter last year, underlying the strong progress we have made developing this important vertical. As we move forward, and in light of the worldwide financial crisis, we believe regulators in China are increasingly focused on enhancing regulation of the securities industry, and we expect them to introduce new qualification requirements and enhance existing professional qualification programs. However, near term challenges in the financial sector are expected to impact our enterprise customers' spending on recruitment and internal HR budgets. We are therefore lowering our full fiscal year 2009 guidance in anticipation of lower than expected revenues from these enterprise customers in the near term. In addition, due to uncertainty as to when the government will decide to outsource some large testing contracts to us, we expect some delays in the launch of new exam titles such as those for the accounting and legal professions. In the long term we expect ATA will benefit from a tighter regulatory environment and, as the market leader, with leading technology, a solid track record and the capability to deploy nationwide computer-based testing in China, we expect that ATA will continue to enjoy growth across a number of our value drivers, including the number of test titles, test takers and related services such as test preparation and training."

ATA's Chief Financial Officer, Carl Yeung, stated, "We are pleased to meet our guidance for the second quarter while at the same time expand our gross margin as a result of a more favorable business mix. Excluding the impact from the shift in timing of China Banking Association exams, we enjoyed revenue growth in the financial industry vertical to RMB8.3 million from RMB0.4 million, as we successfully introduced the new Fund Sales Professional Qualification test title, offered by the Securities Association of China. Our financial performance also reflects the consistent execution of our strategy set earlier this year, as we continued to de-emphasize our test-based education services while focusing on growing our higher margin businesses such as test preparation and training. As a result of our strategic focus, our online test preparation and training for the financial sector delivered very attractive revenue growth of approximately 377% year-over-year as we worked with the Securities Association of China to track licensed professionals and encourage them to comply with their continuous professional training requirements. Our operating profit in the quarter was lower than the comparable period last year as we increased R&D expenditure to develop two new test services in the areas of enterprise HR and English learning markets, which we expect to launch early next year. We believe these new services will diversify our revenue base from the financial testing market and further enhance our long term sustainable growth potential in the years ahead."

Financial Results for the Second Quarter 2009

For the Second Quarter 2009, net revenues were RMB51.7 million (US$7.6 million), representing a 3.9% increase year-over-year. Net revenues from testing services decreased 33.7% year-over-year to RMB14.2 million (US$2.1 million). Net revenues from test-based education services increased 7.2% year over year to RMB11.0 million (US$1.6 million) while net revenues from test preparation and training solutions experienced a 33.0% increase year over year to RMB21.2 million (US$3.1 million). Other revenues, which include testing related marketing services, test development services and others, increased 140.0% to RMB5.4 million (US$0.8 million).

The overall number of tests the Company delivered decreased by 9.2% year-over-year to approximately 1.5 million in the Second Quarter 2009, while the average revenue per test delivered dropped to RMB9.8 from RMB13.4 in the same period of fiscal year 2008. This decrease in average revenue per test was due to the absence of the higher value China Banking Association tests in this quarter. Excluding the impact from the difference in timing of China Banking Association's tests, the number of tests delivered grew 4.5% while average revenue per test increased to RMB9.8 compared to RMB4.7 in the second quarter of fiscal year 2008. Gross profit increased by 15.7% year-over-year to approximately RMB34.4 million (US$5.1 million) from RMB29.7 million in the same period last year. Gross margin increased to 66.5% in the Second Quarter 2009 from 59.7% in the same period last year, driven by higher contribution from the Company's more profitable testing services, test preparation and training solutions as a percentage of total net revenues.

Operating expenses increased by 29.8% year-over-year to RMB25.6 million (US$3.8 million) from RMB19.7 million in the same period last year, primarily due to an increase in general and administrative expenses. General and administrative expenses increased by 28.6% to RMB13.9 million (US$2.0 million), primarily as a result of the increase in share-based compensation and bad debt expenses. Sales and marketing expenses increased by 12.0% to RMB6.9 million (US$1.0), primarily due to an increase in accrued bonuses and share-based compensation in the quarter. Research and development expenses increased by 74.7% year-over-year to RMB4.8 million (US$0.7 million) from RMB2.7 million in the same period last year, primarily due to the research and development expenses related to two new test services expected to be launched in early next year.

Income from operations for the Second Quarter 2009 decreased by 12.2% year over year to approximately RMB8.8 million (US$1.3 million) from RMB10.0 million. Operating margin was 17.0% in the Second Quarter 2009 compared to 20.1% in the same period last year.

Net income for the Second Quarter 2009 decreased by 10.3% to approximately RMB8.3 million (US$1.2 million), including a RMB2.0 million non-recurring government refund, from RMB9.3 million year over year. Basic and diluted earnings per common share were RMB0.18 (US$0.03) and RMB0.18 (US$0.03), respectively, and basic and diluted earnings per ADS were RMB0.36 (US$0.06) and RMB0.36 (US$0.06), respectively.

Net income excluding share-based compensation expense and foreign currency exchange gain (non-GAAP) was RMB9.7 million (US$1.4 million) for the Second Quarter 2009. Basic and diluted earnings per ADS excluding share-based compensation expense and foreign currency exchange gain (non-GAAP) were RMB0.41 (US$0.06) and RMB0.41 (US$0.06), respectively. A reconciliation of GAAP to non-GAAP measures is provided elsewhere in this release.

Other Operating Data

As of September 30, 2008, ATA had 1,895 authorized test centers located throughout China.

The number of weighted average ADSs used to calculate basic and diluted earnings per ADS for the quarter ended September 30, 2008 were 22.8 million and 23.6 million respectively. Each ADS represents two common shares. ATA had 45.7 million common shares outstanding as of September 30, 2008.

Third Quarter 2009 and Full Year Fiscal Year 2009 Guidance

For the fiscal third quarter 2009, ATA forecasts net revenues will be in the range of RMB105 million to RMB115 million, representing year-over-year growth in the range of 58% to 73%. ATA expects that net revenues for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009 will be in the range of RMB300 million to RMB310 million, which would represent 74% to 80% growth over fiscal year 2008. In this respect, ATA is lowering its full year guidance as the Company believes that recent contracts signed with enterprise customers, such as large commercial banks, may generate lower than expected revenues due to delayed execution of these projects along with tightening of such customers' budgets in response to the unfavorable global economic environment. In addition, although ATA remains on track to secure several large scale new exams, such as testing for the accounting and legal professions, deployment of these new test titles within fiscal year 2009 has become less probable. ATA does not expect these delays in the ramp-up of enterprise contracts and the deployment of new exam titles to have an impact on its margin structure, which is expected to remain at current levels, or to improve, due to a favorable mix of businesses. This is ATA's current and preliminary view, which is subject to change. Our results of operations for the Second Quarter 2009 are not necessarily indicative of our operating results for any future periods.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-looking Statements

This announcement contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements can be identified by terminology such as "look forward to," "outlook," "forecast," "will," "expect," "anticipate," "future," "intend," "plan," "believe," "estimate" and similar terminology and include, among other things, the Company's guidance relating to anticipated financial and operating results for the fiscal quarter ending December 31, 2008 and the fiscal year ending March 31, 2009. Among the factors that could cause the Company's actual financial and operating results to differ from what the Company currently anticipate may include the Company's ability to meet challenges associated with its rapid expansion, the Company's ability to meet the expectations of current and future clients, the Company's ability to deploy new test titles, the Company's ability to win new enterprise contracts, the Company's ability to convert its existing enterprise contracts into actual revenue, the Company's ability to implement and maintain effective internal controls over financial reporting, the health of the PRC economy, and uncertainties with respect to the PRC legal and regulatory environments. The financial information contained in this release should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's annual report on Form 20-F for its fiscal year ended March 31, 2008, which was filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on August 28, 2008 and is available on the Securities and Exchange Commission's website at www.sec.gov. For additional information on these and other important factors that could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects, see the "Risk Factors" section of the Company's Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2008.

The forward-looking statements in this release involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties and are based on current expectations, assumptions, estimates and projections about the Company and the markets in which it operates. The Company undertakes no obligation to update forward-looking statements, which speak only of the Company's views as of the date of this release, to reflect subsequent events or circumstances, or to changes in its expectations, except as may be required by law. Although the Company believes that the expectations expressed in these forward-looking statements are reasonable, the Company cannot assure you that its expectations will turn out to be correct, and investors are cautioned that actual results may differ materially from the anticipated results.

About Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement ATA's consolidated financial information presented in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), ATA uses the following measures defined as non-GAAP financial measures by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission: net income excluding share-based compensation expenses and foreign currency exchange gain (losses) and basic and diluted earnings per ADS excluding share-based compensation expenses and foreign currency exchange gain (losses). The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with GAAP. For more information on these non-GAAP financial measures, please see the table captioned "Unaudited reconciliations of non-GAAP measures to the most comparable GAAP measures" set forth at the end of this release.

ATA believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide meaningful supplemental information regarding its performance and liquidity by excluding share-based compensation expenses and foreign currency exchange gain (losses), which may not be indicative of its operating performance from a cash perspective. ATA believes that both management and investors benefit from these non-GAAP financial measures in assessing its performance and when planning and forecasting future periods. These non-GAAP financial measures also facilitate management's internal comparisons to ATA's historical performance and liquidity. ATA computes its non-GAAP financial measures using a consistent method from quarter to quarter. ATA believes these non-GAAP financial measures are useful to investors in allowing for greater transparency with respect to supplemental information used by management in its financial and operational decision making. A limitation of using non-GAAP net income excluding share-based compensation expenses and basic and diluted earnings per share and per ADS excluding share-based compensation expenses is that share-based compensation charges have been and are expected to continue to be for the foreseeable future a significant recurring expense in ATA's business. Management compensates for these limitations by providing specific information regarding the GAAP amounts excluded from each non-GAAP measure. The accompanying table captioned "Reconciliations of Non-GAAP measures to the most comparable GAAP measures" set forth at the end this release, has more details on the reconciliations between GAAP financial measures that are most directly comparable to the non-GAAP financial measures used by ATA.

Currency Convenience Translation

The Company's financial information is stated in RMB. The translation of RMB amounts for the Second Quarter 2009 into United States dollars is included solely for the convenience of readers and has been made at the rate of RMB6.7899 to US$1.00, the noon buying rate as of September 30, 2008 in the City of New York for cable transfers in RMB per US dollar as certified for customs purposes by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Such translations should not be construed as representations that RMB amounts could be converted into US dollar at that rate or any other rate, or to be the amounts that would have been reported under US GAAP.
