Intellinetics Completes Convertible Debt Financing and Retires Senior Debt at a Discount

COLUMBUS, OH, Dec. 06, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Intellinetics, Inc. (OTCQB: INLX), a cloud-based content services provider, announced it has closed the final tranche of a convertible promissory notes financing and raised a total of $2,000,000 of new money.

As part of this financing, the senior secured debt with the Development Services Agency of the State of Ohio ("Development Authority") was retired on November 17, 2017, with a cash payment of $525,000. As agreed with the Development Authority, this cash payment satisfied in full the obligations under the existing loans, which totaled $943,216, including aggregate outstanding principal, interest, and accrued fees.

Additionally, the funds raised from the offering will be used for operations and investments in a revamped marketing strategy, with the foundations already laid following the September 2017 start of Intellinetics' new CEO.

James F. DeSocio, President & CEO of Intellinetics, stated, "It's great that we reached an agreement with the Development Authority to satisfy their loans. I am even more pleased to see the investor community strongly support our new marketing initiatives and strategies to grow both our direct and reseller channels. The financing will enable us to ensure the right programs and resources are deployed to sustainably grow our cloud revenue, with us able to control our own destiny more than ever before."

Taglich Brothers, Inc. served as placement agent for the transaction.
