Intellinetics, Inc. Partners with ARC Industries to Enable Innovative Medicaid Training Services

Partnership Positions Individuals for Employment

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 11, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Intellinetics, Inc., (OTCQB: INLX) a cloud-based document content services provider with a focus on solutions for human service providers (HSP), announced today a new service line that further extends the company's commitment, presence and impact on the HSP market.

This new partnership with ARC Industries (ARC) reflects ARC's focus on community integration for the individuals it serves. In this model, the Intellinetics document scanning operations creates an immersive training environment ideal for hard and soft skills development critical to supporting the program goal of long-term employment for participants.

Modeled after an educational environment, participants move through various levels of training in order to "graduate" which occurs in close collaboration with ARC's employment services for a seamless transition to full-time employment. All training operation occurs at Intellinetics corporate headquarters where participants gain experience working and contributing to a vibrant, high technology environment, interacting with Intellinetics employees while participating in company events, meetings and lunches.

"We are thrilled that our members are granted such an immersive experience with Intellinetics," said Amy Hixenbaugh, Community Employment and Services Manager for ARC. "They are gaining real-world experience that will give them an advantage as they look for employment."

Currently, there are six ARC members in the inaugural class.

"We will continue to onboard new participants through this program," said James F. DeSocio, President & CEO of Intellinetics. "Not only is this the opportunity for us to live our mission but it is the right thing to do. These participants add to our corporate culture and are members of our team. Everyone wins – the participants, Intellinetics, our customers and even the marketplace as we demonstrate how these participants can be successful in the corporate world. This partnership is an obvious next step and underscores the company's continued growth in the human services market."

"Our HSP solutions enable better outcomes, create more time to serve, and remove compliance headaches with world-class security," said Matt Chretien, Chief Technology Officer of Intellinetics and head of the company's HSP business unit. "These scanning services are a great addition to our off-the-shelf modules that include incident case management, electronic visitation verification (EVV), and enterprise content management with credentialing and advanced audit compliance. We anticipate our growing HSP customer base will have interest in our graduates.”
