- Q3 2026 revenue increased 83% year-over-year to $39.1 million
- Net loss of $3.5 million, a 10% year-over-year improvement
- Increasing 2026 revenue outlook to $145 million
- U.S. revenues more than doubled quarter over quarter (QoQ)

FREMONT, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Amprius Technologies, Inc. ("Amprius" or the "Company") (NYSE: AMPX), a leader in silicon anode lithium-ion batteries, today announced financial results for its third quarter ended September 30, 2026, and discussed recent business developments.

Revenue for the third quarter of 2026 was $39.1 million, up 83% from $21.4 million in the third quarter of 2025. Net loss attributable to common stockholders was $3.5 million compared to a net loss of $3.9 million in the third quarter of 2025. GAAP net loss per common share was $0.02, compared to net loss per share was $0.03 in the third quarter of 2025.

Q3 2026 Financial Highlights

- Record revenue of $39.1 million, up 15% sequentially and 83% year-over-year (YoY)
- Gross profit of $10.5 million, up $7.2 million and 217% YoY
- GAAP gross margin of 27%, improving from 15% in Q3 2025
- Net loss attributable to common stockholders of $3.5 million, a $0.4 million improvement YoY
- Non-GAAP Adjusted EBITDA of ($1.0) million, a decrease from $0.2 million in Q3 2025
- U.S. revenues increased by 2.3X quarter-over-quarter (QoQ) to $12.2 million

"Our third quarter results demonstrate the strength of our company’s technology leadership and our ability to convert growing customer demand into meaningful financial performance," said Amprius Technologies CEO Tom Stepien. "We delivered record revenue, as we continued to deepen our relationships with customers across the drone, aviation, defense, and advanced mobility markets. Amprius introduced SiCore 500, a new battery model with industry-leading energy density. The Company was selected for a competitive and significant contract to increase production in the U.S. in 2028. As our guidance suggests, Amprius enters the fourth quarter with strong momentum, driven by an expanding pipeline, and increased manufacturing scale."

Reconciliations of GAAP net loss to non-GAAP adjusted net loss and non-GAAP adjusted EBITDA are provided in the financial schedules that are part of this press release. An explanation of these non-GAAP financial measures is also included below under the heading "Non-GAAP Financial Measures.”

Business Highlights

- Secured a $75 million U.S. Department of War competitive contract to produce cells in the U.S., $22.3 million of which is obligated, by supporting the conversion of an existing battery production line with planned output of up to 12 million NDAA-compliant cells annually in 2028.
- Introduced SiCore® 500, a second-generation silicon anode cell delivering 500 Wh/kg on conventional lithium-ion manufacturing equipment, enabling a scalable path to large-scale commercial production to support aviation customers.
- Expanded our relationship with Quantum Systems, a leading German developer of autonomous unmanned systems, with increased deployment of Amprius cells across its Vector and Twister ISR platforms.
- Began supplying SiCore cells to a U.S. aerospace company producing a solar-powered stratospheric platform. Our cell supports extended-duration missions where energy density and weight are critical performance requirements.
- Secured a design win with a global leader in maritime and defense technology, for an autonomous deep-sea underwater vehicle platform, extending the application of Amprius' SiCore technology into subsea defense and maritime markets.

Updated 2026 Financial Outlook

Amprius updates its 2026 financial outlook as follows:

- Revenue is expected to be $145 million, raised from at least $140 million
- Gross margin is expected to be at least 28%
- Net loss is expected to be less than $10 million, including the Q2 $1.9 million non-cash fair value charge impact of the Warrant Exchange
- Net loss per share is expected to be under $0.07
- Adjusted EBITDA is expected to be at least $2.5 million
- Capital expenditure is expected to be under $10 million

The Company's 2026 outlook assumes depreciation and amortization of $3.0 million, stock-based compensation expense of $9.5 million, $1.2 million of Colorado facility expenses, interest income of $1.7 million, government grant income of $8.0 million and weighted average shares outstanding of 143.4 million for the full year.

Amprius’ CFO Ricardo C. Rodriguez added: “The third quarter once again proved the scalability of our fabless technology and process-owning strategy. Our team continues to meet growing demand with an expanding family of high-performance cells, built in the right place at the right time, without the need for capital investment for manufacturing. The agreements and work that we are executing to establish additional NDAA-compliant production extend this model to the next levels of demand."

Amprius may recognize additional charges, realize gains or losses, incur financing costs or interest expense, or experience other events in 2026, including those related to capacity expansion, supply chain disruptions, or further cost inflation, that could cause actual results to vary materially from this outlook. See Forward-Looking Statements below.

Amprius has not provided a reconciliation of the 2026 outlook for non-GAAP Adjusted EBITDA in reliance on the unreasonable efforts exception provided under Item 10(e)(1)(i)(B) of Regulation S-K due to the uncertainty regarding, and the potential variability of, reconciling items such as, the amount and timing of potential non-recurring items. The Company is unable, without unreasonable efforts, to forecast certain items required to develop meaningful comparable GAAP financial measures.

Forward-Looking Statements

This press release includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and the "safe harbor" provisions of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, each as amended, including Amprius' expectations, hopes, beliefs, intentions or strategies regarding the future. Forward-looking statements may be identified by the use of words such as "estimate," "plan," "project," "forecast," "intend," "expect," "anticipate," "believe," "seek," "will" or other similar expressions that predict or indicate future events or trends or that are not statements of historical matters. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements regarding the ability of Amprius to serve more customers, bring in additional revenue and expand applications, the strategic benefits of Amprius' Fremont, California pilot line to its business, the ability of Amprius to further expand this pilot line and the benefits of such expansion to Amprius, the benefits of the existing government award and recent government policies to Amprius' business, the capacity of Amprius' contract manufacturing partners with respect to Amprius' batteries and Amprius' ability to meet customers' demand through such capacity without the need for significant capital investment in manufacturing, the development and size of the addressable markets for Amprius' batteries and the benefits of the expansion of such addressable markets, the potential application and performance of Amprius' batteries, the ability of Amprius to establish additional NDAA-compliant production to meet next levels of demand as a result of agreements it has entered into, the ability of Amprius to secure additional contract manufacturers that can offer greater geographic diversification and operating flexibility, Amprius' liquidity position, capital strategy, strategic business plans, and Amprius' financial and business performance. These statements are based on various assumptions, whether or not identified in this press release, and on the current expectations of Amprius' management and are not predictions of actual performance. These forward-looking statements are not intended to serve as, and must not be relied upon by any investors as, a guarantee, an assurance, a prediction or a definitive statement of fact or probability. Actual events and circumstances are difficult or impossible to predict and will differ from assumptions. Many actual events and circumstances are beyond Amprius' control. These forward-looking statements are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, including market demands for Amprius' batteries; the ability of Amprius to execute its business model and strategy, including the ability to expand manufacturing capacity, secure a stable and cost-effective supply of key materials, develop production lines that meet its requirements, deliver high performance products to customers at acceptable prices and meet their demands via the contract manufacturing arrangements; the effect of macroeconomic factors, such as tariffs, trade barriers, retaliatory actions imposed on Amprius' partners and suppliers, including regulatory developments proposed in China, abrupt political change, geopolitics, currency fluctuations, embargoes, shortages, terrorist activity, armed conflict and public health emergencies, on Amprius' business; third-party producers of Amprius batteries continuing to produce such batteries in the expected quantities and caliber and at the expected prices; risks related to Amprius' reliance on third parties and partners for the performance of certain obligations under agreements that Amprius is, or may become, party to, and that such third parties may fail to perform, fail to meet milestone requirements on the expected timeline, or experience delays or other difficulties that adversely affect Amprius' ability to perform under such agreements; Amprius' customers continuing to purchase batteries from Amprius; risks related to the terms, conditions, milestones and funding of government awards; risks related to the rollout of Amprius' business and the timing of expected business milestones; the effects of competition on Amprius' business; Amprius' liquidity position and its ability to raise additional capital; the possibility that Amprius may be adversely affected by economic, business or competitive factors, including supply chain interruptions, further cost inflation and developments in alternative technologies, and may not be able to manage other risks and uncertainties; changes in government policies impacting Amprius' customers and addressable markets; and changes in other domestic and foreign business, market, financial, political and legal conditions. More information on these risks and uncertainties that may impact the operations and projections discussed herein can be found in the documents Amprius filed from time to time with the SEC, all of which are available on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. If any of these risks materialize or Amprius' assumptions prove incorrect, actual results could differ materially from the results implied by these forward-looking statements. There may be additional risks that Amprius does not presently know or that Amprius currently believes are immaterial that could also cause actual results to differ from those contained in the forward-looking statements. In addition, forward-looking statements reflect Amprius' expectations, plans or forecasts of future events and views as of the date of this press release. These forward-looking statements should not be relied upon as representing Amprius' assessments as of any date subsequent to the date of this press release. Accordingly, undue reliance should not be placed upon the forward-looking statements. Except as required by law, Amprius specifically disclaims any obligation to update any forward-looking statements.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement our financial results presented on a basis in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP"), we use the non-GAAP measures: Adjusted Net Loss, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA margin, which excludes from our GAAP net loss, interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization, as well as other significant expenses including stock-based compensation that we believe are helpful in understanding our past financial performance. Our non-GAAP financial measures are not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for comparable GAAP measures and should be read only in conjunction with our consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP.

Management believes that these non-GAAP financial measures reflect our ongoing business in a manner that allows for meaningful comparisons and analysis of trends in its business, as it excludes expenses and gains not reflective of ongoing operating results or that may be infrequent and/or unusual in nature. We exclude the non-cash impact of the increase in fair value related to the warrant exchange, as the exchange of warrants for common shares is not related to our ongoing operations. We exclude the operating costs for our former facility in Colorado, as these costs were recurring in the past but with the termination of the lease in January 2026, they are no longer indicative of our ongoing operational results. We also adjust for the effect of stock-based compensation expenses noting that such expenses will recur in future periods. Although stock-based compensation is a key incentive offered to our employees, we continue to evaluate our business performance internally excluding stock-based compensation expenses.

Management also believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to investors in understanding and evaluating our operating results and future prospects in the same manner as management and in comparing financial results across accounting periods and to those of peer companies. These non-GAAP measures may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. In this press release, we provided reconciliations of non-GAAP adjusted net loss and non-GAAP Adjusted EBITDA to GAAP net loss, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure.
