The S35 is a worthy successor to the legendary PV101, offering a versatile 3.5-inch color display with tactile buttons and a user-friendly design. Built for harsh environments, the S35 is IP67-rated and engineered to operate in temperatures ranging from -40°C to +85°C. Its robust features include CAN J1939 and CAN Open support, RS485 serial communication, and seamless integration capabilities for diverse equipment types.

“The S35 represents our commitment to technology innovation and our dedication to providing solutions that meet our customers’ needs,” said Sean Bagan, President, Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of Helios. “This product is not only a continuation of the lineage established by the PV101 but also an expansion into new levels of configurability and programmability. It exemplifies the rugged performance and reliability that our customers have come to expect from Enovation Controls.”

The S35 is fully configurable out of the box and offers an easy-to-use software application that allows for customization of parameters, day/night mode, and even company branding. With support for multiple languages, data logging, and USB-C connectivity options, the S35 ensures seamless operation in a wide range of industrial settings.

Upcoming Tradeshow
