Ceapro Inc.: Glenn Rourke Joins Ceapro Board

EDMONTON, ALBERTA -- (MARKET WIRE) -- 09/25/07 -- Ceapro Inc. (TSX VENTURE: CZO) a Canadian growth-stage biotechnology company is pleased to announce that Glenn Rourke, until recently Managing Director BMO Nesbitt Burns and Senior Vice President Bank of Montreal, has joined Ceapro's Board of Directors. Glenn has worked extensively with public and private companies as well as several levels of government. Corporate policy, governance and its evolution are his among areas of interest. As well, he meets financial literacy requirements and will chair Ceapro's audit committee.

Said Mark Redmond, President and CEO, "We are delighted to welcome Glenn to the Board. His knowledge of corporate finance matters, as well as related evaluation of corporate objectives, strategy and tactical planning will be a significant asset for Ceapro as we investigate areas for growth. His significant business experience will complement the existing capabilities of the Board."

This Board position is being filled as David B. Harvey CIP,CCIB, President & CEO of DBH Financial and Insurance, who has been on Ceapro's board since 2001, is stepping down. His important contribution over the years is well appreciated, and he will continue to provide advisory services to Ceapro in the fields of insurance and liability.

About Glenn Rourke

Glenn Rourke is a bilingual native of Quebec City with degrees from Queen's University and an MBA from the University of Western Ontario. In 2006 he completed the Director's Education Program (DEP) of the Institute for Corporate Directors (ICD) and subsequently received the ICD.D certification.

Retired January 2006, he worked with BMO Financial Group from 1970. He has lived and worked in Tokyo, Singapore and Hong Kong, involved in many aspects of International Banking, culminating with overall responsibility for the Bank's business in Hong Kong and The People's Republic of China.

In 1981 he moved to Toronto as Vice President World Corporate Banking, and then in 1985 was relocated to Montreal as Head of Corporate Banking for Eastern Canada. Subsequent to the merger of Bank of Montreal Corporate Banking and Nesbitt Burns Investment Banking he also assumed direct responsibility for a number of major Quebec-based banking relationships, with overall responsibility for corporate lending and coordination of a wide array of banking products for clients and prospective clients.

During his career, Glenn Rourke developed proficiency and expertise in: dealing at senior government, business and board of directors levels; corporate due diligence; transactional evaluation and negotiation; problem solving/conflict resolution when structuring transactions to meet client needs while respecting market and internal approval criteria.
