Fusion Wins $1.1 Million, Multi-Year Contract to Provide Cloud Communications Solution for a Major Restaurant Brand

Demonstrates Fusion's Success in Delivering Specialized Solutions to Key Verticals

NEW YORK, Sept. 07, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Fusion (NASDAQ: FSNN), a leading provider of cloud services, announced today that it has secured a $1.1 million, three-year cloud solutions agreement with a major family entertainment center and restaurant chain. The popular chain looked to Fusion to consolidate its communications services across several hundred locations in the United States. The chain is currently reviewing a multiple site deployment in Canada to further support its network optimization efforts.

Fusion's dedicated solutions integration team facilitated onboarding of the account for an expedited installation process, exceeding the customer's expectations for rapid deployment and seamless integration with existing applications and workflows. Fusion's all-in, fully integrated solution met the chain's requirement for a single source to provide the highest quality services at competitive pricing across its rapidly expanding chain of popular establishments. The chain also looked for a solution that could support the integration of locations across the border into Canada, a growing territory for the well-known entertainment and restaurant chain.

"We're proud to help the management team of this major organization focus on serving their growing base of customers, relieving them of the need to divert precious resources to manage their wide-ranging and expanding voice and connectivity network," said Dan Foster, Fusion's Chief Revenue Officer. "We look forward to growing with the company and improving productivity across the enterprise with the always-on, reliable communications solutions required for businesses to compete, succeed and grow."
