Management Commentary

“In the third quarter we began the initial implementation phase of our long-term strategic roadmap, which is designed to position Qumu as a more focused, cloud-first organization driving improved, high-margin recurring revenues,” said Qumu President and CEO TJ Kennedy. “Financially, our success along this path was highlighted by strong year-over-year growth in several metrics, including a 28% increase in subscription, maintenance and support revenue along with a 18% increase in subscription ARR, generating robust gross margins of 75% for the quarter. From an operational standpoint, since I joined the company in late July, we have made meaningful progress in cementing our long-term growth strategy, refining our product roadmap, and accelerating the evolution of our SaaS-based business model.

“The global pandemic forced organizations worldwide to rapidly adopt and expand the use of video, both internally and externally. While standard video conferencing and collaboration apps were able to meet the initial need for employees, we are now seeing a second wave of larger more sophisticated needs, where enterprises are exceeding the upper limits of what standard video conferencing and internal collaboration tools can deliver and manage. And this is where Qumu shines. In direct response to this second wave, we built and deployed a new app that enables Zoom to be used as the front end for any large-scale video broadcast, while Qumu handles all delivery, management and video security—changing the game for organizations looking to not only scale Zoom events over 10,000 attendees, but record and manage all Zoom meetings across the organization as secure, searchable, on demand assets. Video content management is the future for all enterprises to get the most out of their organizations and Qumu’s market leading content management capabilities allow video to be securely stored and managed to make businesses more effective and efficient.

“Beyond launching new innovative products for the current market, we’re also hard at work implementing longer-term strategic initiatives to effectively and profitably scale Qumu to the next level. One of these initiatives is expanding and diversifying our go-to-market strategy, which will provide more predictable revenues and long-term, sustainable growth. Consistent with our cloud-first approach, we have now launched an e-Commerce self-service solution that enables a highly automated and low-touch sale of Qumu’s cloud-based solution to small and medium-sized organizations, or SMBs. Now the SMB space can easily access and benefit from Qumu’s best-in-class platform for creating, managing and delivering live and on demand video at scale.

“Today, Qumu is at the forefront of a massive transformation in the way organizations drive communication. Our strategic roadmap is designed to capture the opportunities presented by this transformation. Our successful execution against this plan, which has already begun and will accelerate in the balance of 2020, is expected to drive revenue growth in excess of 20% in 2021 as compared to our current 2020 revenue estimate. Our sales pipeline, strong deferred revenue and our growing annual recurring revenue also give us confidence about our prospects for revenue growth in 2021. Looking ahead, we believe our building momentum and the successful execution of our strategic initiatives will translate to sustainable adjusted EBITDA profitability and, ultimately, net income profitability in the years ahead.”

Third Quarter 2020 Financial Results

Revenue for the third quarter of 2020 was $6.6 million compared to $6.7 million for the third quarter of 2019. The slight decrease in revenue was primarily due to lower software license and appliance revenue, offset by higher subscription, maintenance and support revenue as well as higher subscription bookings.

Subscription, maintenance and support revenue for the third quarter of 2020 increased 28% to $5.3 million from $4.2 million in the same year-ago period, which was driven by new cloud and term deals signed in 2020 as well as an increase in cloud usage overages. Cloud usage continues to grow with significant increases being driven by new use cases and enterprises driving their daily operations through the efficient use of video.

Gross margin in the third quarter of 2020 was 75.1% compared to 69.8% for the third quarter of 2019. The gross margin percentage increase was primarily due to a favorable sales mix and an increase in higher-margin cloud Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) revenue.

Net loss in the third quarter of 2020 was $(1.9) million, or $(0.14) loss per basic and diluted share, compared to $(221,000), or $(0.02) loss per basic share and $(0.11) loss per diluted share, for the third quarter of 2019. The greater net loss for the third quarter of 2020 was primarily due to a combined $1.3 million unfavorable impact from changes in the warrant liability fair value during the 2020 and 2019 third quarters, respectively, a one-time severance charge of $0.4 million related to the CEO transition in July 2020, as well as $0.1 million of transaction expenses related to the previously announced terminated merger with Synacor, Inc.

Adjusted EBITDA loss, a non-GAAP measure, in the third quarter of 2020 was $(839,000), compared to an adjusted EBITDA loss of $(535,000) for the third quarter of 2019.

Cash and cash equivalents totaled $11.4 million as of September 30, 2020, compared to $10.6 million as of December 31, 2019.

Nine Month 2020 Financial Results

Revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2020 increased 16% to $22.2 million from $19.1 million in the same year-ago period. The increase in revenue was primarily due to a large customer order received at the end of the first quarter of 2020.

Subscription, maintenance and support revenue for the nine months ended September 30, 2020 increased 2% to $14.2 million from $13.9 million in the same year-ago period. The increase in subscription, maintenance and support revenue was due to a large order from a single customer as well as a large order received at the end of the first quarter of 2020, partially offset by the recognition of large term license renewals in 2019 that were absent in the comparable period of 2020.

Gross margin for the nine months ended September 30, 2020 was 69.9% compared to 73.3% in the same year-ago period. The gross margin decrease was primarily due to a higher mix of appliance revenue in the nine months of 2020, which generally carries lower margins compared to term license revenue, and lower term license revenue in the 2020 period.

Net loss for the nine months ended September 30, 2020 was $(5.2) million, or $(0.39) loss per basic share and $(0.41) loss per diluted share, compared to $(4.8) million, or $(0.49) loss per basic and diluted share, for the nine months ended September 30, 2019. The higher net loss for the nine months of 2020 was primarily due to $1.6 million of transaction expenses related to the previously announced terminated merger with Synacor, Inc. and a one-time severance charge of $0.4 million related to the CEO transition in July 2020.

Adjusted EBITDA loss, a non-GAAP measure, for the nine months ended September 30, 2020 was $(1.3) million, compared to an adjusted EBITDA loss of $(1.8) million for the comparable 2019 period.

Business Outlook

Qumu provides revenue guidance based on current market conditions and expectations, including the unknown financial impact that COVID-19 will have on economies and enterprises around the world. Based on the Company's third quarter 2020 financial results and pipeline of business, management currently expects revenue for 2020 to be approximately $29.0 million compared to $25.4 million in 2019, representing year-over-year growth of 14%.

For 2021, management anticipates that the successful execution of its new strategic roadmap has the potential to generate revenue growth of at least 20% compared to the current 2020 estimates.

Conference Call

Qumu executive management will host a conference call today (October 27, 2020) at 4:30 p.m. Eastern time.

Non-GAAP Information

To supplement the Company's condensed consolidated financial statements presented on a GAAP basis, the Company uses adjusted EBITDA, a non-GAAP measure, which excludes certain items from net loss, a GAAP measure. Adjusted EBITDA excludes items related to interest income and expense, the impact of income-based taxes, depreciation and amortization, stock-based compensation, change in fair value of warrant liabilities, foreign currency gains and losses, other non-operating income and expenses, and transaction-related expenses.

The Company uses both GAAP and non-GAAP measures when planning, monitoring, and evaluating the Company's performance. The Company believes that adjusted EBITDA is useful to investors because it provides supplemental information that allows investors to review the Company's results of operations from the same perspective as management and the Company's board of directors. Non-GAAP results are presented for supplemental informational purposes only for understanding our operating results. The non-GAAP results should not be considered a substitute for financial information presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies.

See the attached Supplemental Financial Information for a reconciliation of net loss, a GAAP measure, to adjusted EBITDA, a non-GAAP measure, for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2020 and 2019.
