

Midwest Energy Emissions Corp. Secures a Three-Year Supply Contract Extension With Largest Customer

Multi-Million Dollar Annual Extension With Leading North American Utility Covers Proprietary SEA[®] Technology with Potential for Further Expansion into Fleet

LEWIS CENTER, Ohio, Oct. 11, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Midwest Energy Emissions Corp. (OTCQB: MEEC) ("ME₂C[®]" or the "Company"), a global leader in mercury emissions control for the power industry, has secured a three-year, multi-million dollar annual supply contract extension with a current customer. Under the extended supply contract, ME₂C will continue supplying its proprietary Sorbent Enhancement Additive SEA[®] technologies.

"We are proud to announce that we have secured a three-year extension with our largest customer for full product supply to meet their mercury capture requirements for the next three years," said Richard MacPherson, President and CEO of ME₂C. "This contract is a multi-million dollar annual contract and speaks to the value of our SEA technology and continued 'best-in-class' performance we provide utilities."

ME₂C's patented SEA technologies enable coal-fired power plants to achieve and maintain compliance with mercury emission regulations effectively and at a low cost. Leveraging its proprietary two-part SEA system, ME₂C's team of industry experts tailor a solution specifically designed to meet the customer's needs allowing them to reduce mercury emissions by over 90% efficiently at the lowest possible cost.
