Maximus Partners with CNSI to Support Medicaid Claims Processing

– Assisting CNSI with claims adjudication and call center support in NASPO ValuePoint™ procurement –

RESTON, Va.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Maximus (NYSE: MMS), a leading provider of government services worldwide, announced today an agreement to be an operation services partner to CNSI in National Association of State Procurement Officials (NASPO) cooperative contracts for the Medicaid Management Information System (MMIS) Claims Processing and Management Services Module. CNSI, an approved vendor in the procurement, earned the highest overall weighted score in the evaluation. As their operation services partner, Maximus will assist with claims adjudication support using CNSI's evoBrix X™ platform and provide call center services for Medicaid members and providers.

The partnership with CNSI aligns with Maximus' commitment to advancing the operational effectiveness and program integrity of state health and human services programs nationwide. As the largest engagement center provider for government programs, Maximus has the experience and capacity to provide high quality customer service for claims adjudication and fact-finding support, and for handling ongoing claims inquiries and resolution services. Our ability to provide conflict-free resolutions is critical to ensuring customer claims receive fair and unbiased handling and recommendations.

Maximus and CNSI bring best-of-class technology and deep domain familiarity with the complex business processes of state Medicaid operations. This partnership offers state Medicaid programs holistic capabilities that can deliver significant advantages over "technology-only" modernization projects.

"We are excited to be a partner to CNSI in these NASPO cooperative contracts and look forward to helping deliver a robust claims processing solution for participating states," said Bruce Caswell, President and Chief Executive Officer of Maximus. "At Maximus, our mission is to provide exceptional services that optimize the effectiveness of government programs, enabling our customers to better engage and serve their covered populations."

"Maximus brings a proven and innovative set of business operations capabilities that seamlessly align with CNSI's suite of top-ranked claims processing offerings," said Todd Stottlemeyer, CEO, CNSI. "This strategic partnership allows CNSI to bring our clients the best solutions available in the marketplace."
