Genius Group appoints Robert Kiyosaki as Board Advisor

SINGAPORE, Sept. 30, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Genius Group Limited (NYSE American: GNS) ("Genius Group" or the "Company"), a leading AI-powered, Bitcoin-first education group, today announced that it has appointed Robert Kiyosaki as an advisor to the Board.

Mr. Kiyosaki is the author of 29 books including 'Rich Dad, Poor Dad' - the #1 personal finance book of all time. 'Rich Dad Poor Dad' is the longest running bestseller on all four lists that report to Publisher's Weekly: The New York Times, Business Week, The Wall Street Journal and USA Today. It also held a top spot on the New York Times list for over five years running. The book has been translated into 45 languages and is available in 90 countries, having sold over 25 million copies worldwide.

Mr. Kiyosaki has been a featured guest with media outlets in every corner of the world— from FOX News, CNN, the BBC, Real Vision, Yahoo! Finance, Al Jazeera, GBTV and PBS to Larry King Live, Oprah, Peoples Daily, Sydney Morning Herald, The Doctors, The Straits Times, Bloomberg, NPR, USA TODAY, and hundreds of others.

Mr. Kiyosaki has been an outspoken critic in the media and on social media of the fiat-driven, debt-based economy, and an advocate of gold, silver and Bitcoin as a hedge against runaway money printing and inflation. In one of his more recent books 'FAKE: Fake Money, Fake Teachers, Fake Assets: How Lies Are Making the Poor and Middle Class Poorer' he critiques financial misinformation and the increasingly urgent need for financial self-education.

He is an entrepreneur, educator, and investor whose point of view is that 'old' advice - go to college, get a good job, save money, get out of debt, invest for the long term, and diversify - has become obsolete advice in today's fast-paced Information Age. His Rich Dad philosophies and messages challenge the status quo, and his teachings encourage people to take initiative to become financially educated and play an active role in investing for the future.

To teach the principals of financial literacy, Mr. Kiyosaki created an educational board game called "CASHFLOW[®] 101" to help teach the financial and investment strategies of his rich father. There are now more than 1,600 CASHFLOW Clubs throughout the world.

Born and raised in Hawaii, Mr. Kiyosaki is fourth-generation Japanese American. He graduated from college in New York, joining the Marine Corps as an officer and gunship pilot in the Vietnam War. He was awarded the Air Medal for bravery during his service.

Mr. Kiyosaki will be advising Genius Group's board on effective strategies to grow its global brand, expand its Entrepreneur and Financial Education programs and build its Bitcoin Treasury and Genius City model, built on a Bitcoin-backed, Real World Asset (RWA) tokenization system.

Mr. Kiyosaki will also be keynote speaker at the Company's annual entrepreneur summit, the Genius Future Summit 2026.

Genius Group's CEO, Roger James Hamilton, said "I have been inspired by Robert's common-sense approach to financial education since we first met in Singapore in 1997, when he launched his Cashflow Board Game and before he had published Rich Dad, Poor Dad. We share a common inspiration in Buckminster Fuller, who believed humanity was facing a final exam, for which a change in education was needed for us to survive and thrive."

"With the launch of our Genius City and the growth of our Bitcoin Treasury, it's taken close to thirty years for us to have finally reached the perfect time to benefit fully from Robert's experience and expertise. I'm excited to have the opportunity to bring Robert's wisdom to our Board as a Board Advisor."

Robert Kiyosaki said "I'm delighted to have the opportunity to advise Roger and his Board as they grow Genius Group. Financial education and having a financial understanding of what's happening in our economy is more important now than ever. I look forward to advising Genius Group on achieving its goal of bringing financial education to students around the world."
