Vaunt Introduces "Complete the Trip" and "Travel Center" Features, Enhancing Convenience and Flexibility for Private Aviation Travelers

ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Volato Group, Inc. (the "Company" or "Volato") (NYSE American: SOAR) is excited to announced today that Vaunt, its fast-growing private aviation platform, has launched two new features—"Complete the Trip" and "Travel Center"—designed to enhance convenience and flexibility for private aviation travelers. These features enable users to seamlessly integrate commercial airline legs into their itineraries and improve their priority on the waitlist through airline flight purchases. Both features are now live and available to all Vaunt users.

"Complete the Trip" allows users to add an airline leg to their journey effortlessly, ensuring a smooth and uninterrupted travel experience. Meanwhile, the "Travel Center" feature offers users the ability to purchase airline flights directly, which in turn enhances their priority on the Vaunt waitlist. The specifics of the priority boost remain confidential as part of Vaunt's proprietary system, ensuring fairness and unpredictability.

Tim Graves, VP of Marketing & Operations at Vaunt, commented: "Our goal has always been to make spontaneous travel as seamless and convenient as possible. With 'Complete the Trip' and 'Travel Center,' we're giving our users more control and flexibility in how they travel, whether it's combining private jet and commercial flights or getting a higher spot on the waitlist."

Vaunt's approach to integrating commercial airline bookings is powered by a leading consolidator, providing users with a wide range of flight options without leaving the app. While no specific airline partnerships are in place currently, Vaunt remains open to collaborations that could further enhance the user experience.

These new features align with Vaunt's mission of transforming private aviation from a service into an experiential platform where every trip has the potential to become a memorable adventure.
