Professional Diversity Network Announces Donna Brazile Will be Joining Its Board of Directors

CHICAGO, July 23, 2014 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Professional Diversity Network, Inc. (Nasdaq:IPDN) ("PDN") announced today that Ms. Donna Brazile will be joining the Professional Diversity Network Board of Directors upon the completion of the pending merger with National Association of Professional Women ("NAPW").

"Our Company will be greatly enhanced with the addition of Ms. Brazile to our Board of Directors. As one of our nation's leading authorities on socioeconomic and political issues, Ms. Brazile is uniquely capable of advancing and accelerating our mission of providing economic opportunity to all Americans. Her legacy in this country includes gains made for economic, racial and gender injustices and she continues to advocate for diversity in all of her endeavors," commented Jim Kirsch, CEO of Professional Diversity Network. "Among her many accolades, Donna was the first African American to manage a presidential campaign and is a prolific lecturer, professor and political thought leader. She brings considerable knowledge and thought leadership to PDN and will be instrumental to us in our mission to drive diversity in the workplace across the United States."

"Donna is THE thought leader of the diversity discussion as a universal policy that leads to excellence in all aspects of society," said Star Jones, NAPW President and National Spokesperson. "I've known Donna since we were both teenage community volunteers, so I am doubly proud and honored to have her join PDN's Board of Directors. Her life's work proves that diversity increases dialogue, expands opportunity, fosters innovation and improves the social contract. She will no doubt bring her passion for political, social and economic progress to our efforts to have American business truly reflect the rich diversity of the American people."

"I'm thrilled with the opportunity to join the board of Professional Diversity Network (PDN) as they extend their reach by merging with National Association of Professional Women (NAPW). I believe that diversity is important because it improves results. It doesn't matter what type of diversity we're talking about -- whether it's race, gender, class or geographical background -- when you have a group of people confronted with a problem, the solution they come up with is going to be better when the problem has been viewed from all different sides," said Ms. Brazile. "Studies have consistently shown that diversity encourages creative collaboration. It allows us to utilize the skills of everyone in the workforce. It provides us with a variety of strengths and perspectives. The diverse voices, faces or perspectives can help open doors to creativity in ways that more homogenous groups do not experience. It's time we face it -- that in the 21st century, we must encourage diversity in all aspects of life."

The merger agreement with NAPW provides that at the effective time of the merger, PDN will appoint four new individuals designated by NAPW to its board, one of whom will be Ms. Brazile. Ms. Brazile's appointment to PDN's board will take effect when the current board acts to appoint her and the merger closes.
