Novelis And Prefa Sign Multi-Year Supply Agreement

European partnership will develop new aluminum roofing solutions

Feb 02, 2006 /PRNewswire-FirstCall via COMTEX News Network/ -- Novelis Inc. (NYSE: NVL) (TSX: NVL), the global leader in aluminum rolled products, and Prefa, one of Europe's leading manufacturers and marketers of aluminum roofing, today announced the signing of a long-term contract for the supply of pre-painted aluminum sheet to Prefa. Details of the multi-million dollar supply agreement were not released.

In addition, Novelis and Prefa announced that they will collaborate on initiatives to expand the use of pre-painted aluminum sheet in roofing applications. The companies will partner on extended supply chain initiatives to meet the service requirements of architects, builders and installers. As well, they will work jointly to develop innovative paint systems to enhance the aesthetics, durability and life-cycle benefits of their roofing products.

Novelis has also awarded Prefa a license for the distribution of Falzonal®, a pre-painted, standing-seam quality aluminum sheet produced by Novelis for a wide range of roofing and façade architecture (www.falzonal.com). Under the terms of the license, Prefa becomes sole distributor of Falzonal® in a number of European countries, most notably Germany and Austria. The material will be marketed alongside the full range of Prefa roofing systems and products, offering customers "one-stop shopping" for their roofing needs.

"We are delighted that this strengthening of our co-operation with Novelis will provide a solid platform for innovation and growth, which will help develop our overall offer to the thriving market for aluminum roofing," said Walter Pacher, Prefa managing director.

Erwin Mayr, president of Novelis' Automotive, Painted and Specialties business unit, added: "Novelis firmly believes in the value of working closely with its customers. This agreement with Prefa will provide many opportunities for joint work on product development and supply chain initiatives. Prefa's extensive experience in aluminum roofing, together with Novelis' materials and coatings expertise, will be a powerful combination in developing roofing solutions of the future."
