About Oculus

Oculus Innovative Sciences is a biopharmaceutical company that develops, manufactures and markets a family of products based upon the Microcyn(R) Technology platform, which is intended to help prevent and treat infections in chronic and acute wounds. The Microcyn Technology platform is a controlled slow-release solution containing active chlorine and other gases resulting in a biocompatible technology to treat a wide range of pathogens, including antibiotic-resistant strains of bacteria, viruses, fungi and spores. The technology has demonstrated significant wound healing in chronic and acute wounds. It has been commercialized outside of the U.S. for the treatment of infected wounds. It is currently under evaluation for the treatment of mildly infected diabetic ulcers in the U.S.

Oculus' principal operations are in Petaluma, California, and it conducts operations in Europe, Latin America and Japan through its wholly owned subsidiaries, Oculus Innovative Sciences Netherlands B.V., Oculus Technologies of Mexico, S.A. de C.V. and Oculus Japan K.K. Oculus' website is www.oculusis.com.
