Novelis Names Greg Schlicht Executive Vice President and President, Novelis North America

ATLANTA, Sept. 11, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Novelis Inc., a leading sustainable aluminum solutions provider and the world leader in aluminum rolling and recycling, today announced that Greg Schlicht has been appointed Executive Vice President and President, Novelis North America, effective immediately. In this position, Schlicht is responsible for all aspects of the company's business in the North America region, which includes manufacturing and recycling facilities across the United States and Canada.

For the past 16 years, Schlicht has served in leadership positions for Novelis. His most recent assignment was Chief Commercial Officer and Vice President of Commercial, Novelis North America, where he led all aspects of sales for the region. Before that, he spent four years leading sales for the company's global Beverage Packaging accounts. He has also held leadership positions in the company's strategy & sustainability and legal departments.

"Greg's extensive experience and proven leadership make him the ideal candidate to drive our strategic initiatives and growth in the North America region," said Steve Fisher, president & CEO, Novelis Inc. "His commitment to innovation, sustainability and excellence aligns perfectly with our vision to advance aluminum as the material of choice with circular solutions. We are confident that under Greg's leadership, Novelis North America will continue to achieve new heights and deliver exceptional value to our customers and stakeholders."

Novelis North America produces aluminum for customers in the beverage packaging, automotive and high-end specialties markets, which range from industrial products for the building and construction and transportation industries to food containers.
