Statement 1:

Part II, Question 14:

Matthews International Corporation ("Matthews") and Schawk, Inc. ("Schawk") entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger and Reorganization dated as of March 16, 2014 (the "Agreement") pursuant to which Matthews acquired Schawk. The Agreement provided for a two-step merger pursuant to which, first, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Matthews merged with and into Schawk, with Schawk surviving (the "Merger") and immediately after the effectiveness of the Merger, Schawk was merged with and into a separate wholly-owned entity of Matthews, with the subsidiary surviving (the "Second Merger"). The Merger and Second Merger were consummated on July 29, 2014.

Statement 2:

Part II, Question 15:

The acquisition by Matthews of Schawk pursuant to the Merger and Second Merger qualified as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended. Pursuant to the Merger, each outstanding share of Schawk common stock was converted into the right to receive .20582 of a share of Matthews common stock and $11.80 in cash. Matthews did not issue fractional shares in the Merger. Instead, Matthews paid cash for fractional shares of common stock based on a value of Matthews common stock equal to the arithmetic average of the average daily high and low sales prices per share of Matthews common stock as reported on the NASDAQ during the ten trading days immediately preceding the date on which the Merger was consummated.

Upon exchanging Schawk common stock for Matthews common stock and cash pursuant to the Merger, a holder of Schawk common stock will recognize gain, but not loss, equal to the lesser of: (1) the amount cash received by the holder in the merger (not including any cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Matthews common stock) and (2) the excess, if any, of (a) the sum of the amount of cash received by the holder in the Merger (not including any cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Matthews common stock) plus the fair market value of Matthews common stock (including the fair market value of any fractional share) received in the Merger, over (b) the holder's tax basis in the Schawk common stock surrendered in the Merger. If a holder of Schawk common stock acquired different blocks of Schawk common stock at different prices or different times, such holder should consult his or her tax advisor regarding the manner in which gain should be determined.

The aggregate tax basis in the shares of Matthews common stock received pursuant to the Merger (including any fractional share deemed received and exchanged for cash as described below) will equal the aggregate tax basis in the Schawk common stock surrendered by the holder in the Merger, decreased by the amount of cash received (excluding any cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Matthews common stock), and increased by the amount of gain, if any recognized (excluding any gain recognized with respect to cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Matthews common stock and including any amount of gain treated as a dividend under the provisions of Internal Revenue Code Section 356).

A holder who received cash in lieu of a fractional share of Matthews common stock will be treated as having received the fractional share in the Merger, and then as having sold such fractional share for cash to Matthews. The amount of any gain or loss recognized as a result of such deemed sale will be equal to the difference between the cash received in lieu of the fractional share and the ratable portion of the tax basis of Schawk common stock exchanged in the Merger that is allocated to such fractional share, and will generally constitute long-term capital gain or loss if the shares of Schawk common stock exchanged had been held by the holder for more than one year at the time of the exchange.

The information contained in this Form 8937 is not tax advice. Former Schawk shareholders are urged to consult their tax advisors to determine the federal, state, local and foreign income tax consequences to them resulting from the Merger and Second Merger based on their particular circumstances. Former Schawk shareholders also are urged to read the discussion entitled "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" included in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus included as part of the Registration Statement filed by Matthews International Corporation on June 25, 2014.

PART II, Question 16 SUPPORTING DATA AND SAMPLE CALCULATION

The following example illustrates the method by which a former Schawk shareholder would calculate basis in Matthews common stock received In the merger. The example assumes that the shareholder is an individual U.S. citizen or resident who acquired shares of Schawk stock in one block at the same price for cash and holds such shares as capital assets and that the

The fair market value of each Matthews share received in the merger is assumed to be $43.58, which is the mean of the high and low selling price of such stock on July 29, 2014.

The fair market value of Matthews stock for purposes of determining the fractional share payment is $42.88, which is determined in accordance with Section 2.3(e) of the Agreement.
