General Employment Expands Its Omni One National Services in Naperville, IL

NAPERVILLE, Ill., Nov. 21, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- General Employment Enterprises, Inc. (the "Company") (NYSE MKT: JOB), is excited to announce the expansion of its engineering staffing services to Naperville, IL, under its Omni One Division, to serve the entire Chicago Metropolitan area.

"The first strategic growth initiative in our business plan is to expand the services in several of our locations throughout the United States and today we begin that process," said Andrew J. Norstrud, Chief Financial Officer of General Employment Enterprises. "Matt Haeussler will lead this effort and brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the division."

Effective immediately, the full compliment of Omni One services are available out of the Naperville, IL, location, in addition to the Ashley Ellis Information Technology staffing services that are already in place.

Haeussler stated, "We are very excited to begin serving the Engineering industry in the greater Chicago area and throughout the region. Under General Employment Enterprises, Omni One has a long history of placing engineers with great organizations throughout the United States."

The Naperville, Illinois Branch of General Employment Enterprises has had six years in the market to establish itself as a valuable resource in the Chicagoland area. The office operates with 11 highly trained recruiters, and is also projected to grow its array of services to include staffing in the finance and accounting industry in the near future.
