Quanta Provides Update on Recent Success of CBD Muscle Rub Sales

Product sales have increased 70% month over month since its launch, 5 months ago

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Quanta, Inc. (OTC PINK: QNTA) an applied science company, focused on enhancing energy levels in plant matter, including hemp and cannabis, to increase performance within the human body, announced today that sales for their CBD muscle rub are continuing to grow at a record pace.

Quanta CBD Muscle Rub is a premium organic product infused with Cannabidiol (CBD) arnica, turmeric, and a proprietary blend of essential oils for maximum anti-inflammatory relief. Packed with pain-fighting ingredients, the balm works to increase circulation, ease aches and pains, and provide maximum relief, comfort, and overall well-being. Quanta created the rub with a mission to prove the added benefits of their technology, and started selling the product in 2018. Cannabidiol has been experiencing increased levels of popularity, most notably due to the recent passage of the 2018 Farm Bill that officially legalized hemp.

"Sales for our muscle rub have exploded since launching a little over 5 months ago," said Chief Executive Officer, Eric Rice. "The product has gained a loyal following and we've experienced sequential monthly growth. Current sales are growing at 76% month over month with online sales leading the way at 163% growth month over month. We're looking forward to adding more distribution partners, additional products to our portfolio and reaching more customers as they become more aware of the invaluable benefits of CBD, especially polarized CBD."

Quanta products are now available at over 300 doctor's offices, 100 pharmacies and over 150 retail stores. The Company is currently engaged in discussions with several major national fitness centers, hospital networks and pain management centers for additional distribution of its proprietary service offerings.
