Sonic Automotive, Inc. Announces Redemption of Outstanding 6.0% Senior Secured Convertible Notes

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Oct. 29 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ --Sonic Automotive, Inc. (NYSE: SAH), the nation's third-largest automotive retailer, today reported that it has successfully completed a redemption of all of its outstanding 6.0% Senior Secured Convertible Notes which were due in 2012 using proceeds from its recently completed public offerings of shares of Class A common stock and 5.0% Convertible Senior Notes.

Scott Smith, Sonic's President, stated, "This latest step in the restructuring of our balance sheet removes an extremely dilutive security from our capital structure. We are very pleased that, even in the midst of a severe economic downturn, the strength and flexibility of our business model has allowed us to successfully address our near-term debt obligations. Through a combination of internally generated cash and proceeds from our recent offerings, we have reduced our outstanding debt by over $150 million since the end of 2008. We appreciate the support and confidence demonstrated by our bondholders and shareholders as we completed these recent transactions. With our next significant bond maturity not occurring until late 2013, we believe we have a clear road ahead of us for the successful refinancing of our syndicated credit facility, which we expect to have complete by the end of this calendar year. In the meantime, our operations team is clearly focused on continuing the rollout of our operational playbooks to set the stage for even greater successes in 2010."
