"2007 has been a challenging year for the Company, and the results we announced today reflect the lowered expectations we discussed in early June," said Glenn Novotny, President and Chief Executive Officer of Central Garden & Pet. "As we noted then, an extraordinary rise in grain prices and unfavorable weather conditions across the United States created a 'perfect storm'."

"This year's performance notwithstanding, we have a good business. We are fundamentally optimistic about a rebound in 2008 given the steps we are taking during this challenging time to reduce costs and adjust buying and pricing strategies. These and other initiatives are designed to enable us to react more quickly to dynamics in the marketplace. Our objective is to be more agile and better positioned for improved and more consistent performance for our shareholders in fiscal 2008 and beyond," Novotny continued.
