“The well-being of our patients, guests and team continues to be our highest priority. As an essential service, we are authorized and/or required to remain open like pharmacies, grocery stores and hospitals. Columbia Care is taking all necessary safety precautions in our facilities across the nation, as recommended by the CDC and local health authorities, to continue serving our communities in the safest and most professional manner possible,” said Nicholas Vita, chief executive officer of Columbia Care.

“We continue to see record operational performance, as reflected by our weekly results highlighted below. One of the most important innovations driving Columbia Care’s success is the CNC Credit Card, the first credit card for the cannabis industry. Concerns over COVID-19 contaminating cash makes the CNC card a more convenient and safer payment option.”

- $2.8+ million weekly revenue, a new company record (excludes the TGS acquisition)
- 22,200+ transactions with an average basket size over $120
