Cleveland-Cliffs Shareholders Reject Harbinger's Control Share Acquisition Proposal at Special Meeting of Shareholders

CLEVELAND--(BUSINESS WIRE)--

Cleveland-Cliffs Inc (NYSE: CLF), which will be renamed Cliffs Natural Resources in mid-October, today announced that, based on the preliminary count provided by its proxy solicitor, it appears that approximately 80% of shares voted by holders other than Harbinger Capital Partners, its equity-swap counter parties or other "interested" shareholders voted AGAINST the proposed control share acquisition at today's special meeting.

"On behalf of Cliffs' Board and management team, we thank our shareholders for their support," said Joseph A. Carrabba, Cliffs' chairman, president and chief executive officer. "We are pleased Cliffs' shareholders voted to retain their right to provide meaningful input on the future strategic decisions of the Company. Moreover, we are pleased that all shareholders will have the opportunity to evaluate the merits of the proposed acquisition of Alpha Natural Resources."

The independent Inspector of Elections, IVS Associates, Inc., will tabulate all proxies and ballots submitted at the special meeting. The presiding inspector, Hugh E. McKay, will work with and oversee the Inspector of Elections. The Inspector of Elections is expected to issue its final certification of the vote in approximately two weeks.
