VAALCO Energy Purchases Bakken Acreage

HOUSTON, May 31, 2011 /PRNewswire/ -- VAALCO Energy, Inc. ("VAALCO") (NYSE: EGY) today announced the purchase from a privately held company of a 70% working interest in 5,214 acres in Sheridan County, Montana. The acreage directly adjoins the Flat Lake Field which successfully produces from the Middle Bakken formation.

Robert Gerry, Chairman and CEO said, "We are highly optimistic that this acreage will be productive from the Bakken and possibly the Three Forks formation, thereby having the potential to add significant reserves and cash flow to VAALCO."

"We believe there could be 100 million barrels of original oil in place associated with this acreage and with a recovery factor of between 5% - 10% it is an exciting undertaking for us," Mr. Gerry continued. "Our partner has participated in over 200 Bakken wells and will retain a 30% working interest in the prospect. We continue to evaluate other domestic opportunities, both conventional and unconventional, to build a portfolio of assets to complement our West African activities."

Financial terms were not disclosed as additional opportunities in the area are being reviewed by VAALCO. Operatorship is being discussed by the partners with a well anticipated to be drilled in the fourth quarter of 2011 at a net cost to VAALCO of approximately $3.5 million.
