Galaxy Gaming Appoints Anand Singh as Chief Technology Officer

LAS VEGAS, July 14, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Galaxy Gaming, a leading developer and distributor of proprietary table games and technology, today announced the appointment of Anand Singh as Chief Technology Officer, effective July 6, 2026. Singh brings more than two decades of experience driving engineering excellence and product innovation within the gaming industry.

Singh is a seasoned technology executive with deep expertise in gaming platforms, cloud-based systems, and large-scale product development. Most recently, he served as Senior Director of Engineering at Agilysys, where he worked on advanced cloud-native platforms in collaboration with major global hospitality brands. Prior to that, Singh spent nearly 20 years at Light & Wonder (formerly Scientific Games and Bally Technologies), where he held multiple senior leadership roles, including Executive Director of Software Development.

"We are thrilled to welcome Anand to Galaxy Gaming at such a pivotal moment in our growth story," said Matt Reback, President and CEO at Galaxy Gaming. "Anand brings the technical leadership, industry expertise, and forward-thinking mindset we need to help us continue accelerating innovation and execution. Galaxy has been making waves with our unique combination of world-class technologies and brands, so Anand's focus will be finding new ways to harness and expand this combination."

Singh is a growth-oriented technology leader and strong advocate for modern development practices. His addition is expected to enhance Galaxy's product development capabilities and accelerate time-to-market.

"I'm excited to join Galaxy Gaming and contribute to its next chapter of growth," said Singh. "The company has a strong vision and compelling product roadmap, and I look forward to working closely with the team to deliver innovative, high-quality table game experiences to our partners and players worldwide."

In his role, Singh will lead the company's technology strategy and engineering organization, working closely with the Product Development team to align product vision and execution.
