Webcast on ExxonMobil's 2014 Outlook for Energy

Webcast scheduled Thursday, December 12, 2013 at 10 a.m. EST

IRVING, Texas--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Media are invited to participate in a webcast regarding ExxonMobil's 2014 Outlook for Energy: A View to 2040 on Thursday, December 12, 2013 from 10 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. EST.

ExxonMobil executives William Colton, vice president of corporate strategic planning, and Kenneth Cohen, vice president of public and government affairs, will lead the presentation. Sarah Ladislaw, co-director and senior fellow in the Energy and National Security Program at the Center for Strategic & International Studies, will moderate the program. The presentation will be followed by time for questions and discussion.

The webcast will be available at www.exxonmobil.com/energyoutlookwebcast.

The Outlook for Energy, updated each year, is ExxonMobil's long-term global view of energy demand and supply. Its findings help guide the long-term investments that underpin ExxonMobil's business strategy.

ExxonMobil, the largest publicly traded international oil and gas company, uses technology and innovation to help meet the world's growing energy needs. ExxonMobil holds an industry-leading inventory of resources, is the largest refiner and marketer of petroleum products, and its chemical company is one of the largest in the world.
