“Our customers have requested a very smooth, low gloss polyester, which exhibits a consistent appearance and affords excellent abrasion and corrosion resistant properties,” said Craig Dietz, Axalta Market Product Manager. “The addition of this product illustrates our commitment to meeting our customers’ needs.”

Designed for strength and durability, Alesta BK08 20 Gloss is the perfect choice for a multitude of exterior projects, tool boxes, sports equipment, furniture, and architecture. With a great resistance to most solvents including oils, acids, and alkalis, BK08 20 Gloss is formulated to maintain aesthetics. Product evaluations indicate better gloss and color retention over standard polyester powder products on the market.
