About The Faris Foundation

The Faris Foundation brings brighter days and better treatments to children with cancer. We follow the very words and the "heartprint" of our Chief Angel Officer, Faris D. Virani, and we hold our work to his same high standards: to be bold, original and transformative in all that we do.

Our work is focused in four key areas, each inspired by Faris' own words: childhood cancer research; creative arts programs at children's cancer centers; public engagement and awareness around childhood cancer; and care packages for children with cancer.
