“Having influential women like Taryn Owen in leadership positions is an important part of our company's success,” said Patrick Beharelle, president and COO of TrueBlue. “We are proud to have Taryn represent PeopleScout and TrueBlue, along with the many other women who have key leadership roles throughout our organization.”

SIA noted that during Owen's tenure as president, PeopleScout has grown “an impressive 350 percent through a combination of organic growth, acquisition and vertical integration.” The company has connected more than 300,000 job seekers with full-time employment over the last year.

Between 2016 and 2017, Owen successfully led PeopleScout through the acquisition of Aon's RPO division and the integration of MSP operations from sister company Staff Management | SMX. These integrations strengthened the company's capabilities and expanded its breadth of expertise and client base.

“I am honored to be named to the 2017 Global Power 100 along with such an impressive group of women,” said Owen. “It's an exciting time to be part of the talent industry, and I look forward to innovating along with these leaders to continue to elevate our industry's capabilities.”

Under Owen's leadership, PeopleScout was recognized as the No. 1 MSP on HRO Today's 2017 MSP Baker's Dozen earlier this year, and last week was recognized as a top Enterprise and Healthcare RPO Provider on HRO Today's 2017 RPO Baker's Dozen.
