Ameresco Continues Momentum in the Federal Sector, Secures $76M Project with the United States Postal Service

USPS will rely on Ameresco to complete build-out of its space in the iconic James A. Farley building, located in the heart of midtown Manhattan

FRAMINGHAM, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--

Ameresco, Inc., (NYSE: AMRC) today announced that the United States Postal Service (USPS) has selected its Federal Solutions group to complete the tenant finish work of the space to be occupied in the James A. Farley building. USPS will occupy approximately 275,000 square feet within the building.

This tenant finish contract represents Ameresco's third project award with the USPS in 2019. Previously, the agency selected Ameresco to complete an infrastructure project in Hawaii. USPS also awarded Ameresco a contract to install new solar panel systems at multiple sites around the country.

"We're thrilled to be doing the USPS's tenant finish work in the James A. Farley building, and to be involved in a project of such importance to the USPS," said Nicole Bulgarino, Executive Vice President and General Manager, Federal Solutions, at Ameresco.

USPS's tenant finish construction in their space at the James A. Farley building began on November 1, 2019 and it will involve intensive coordination with multiple contractors to ensure historic elements are preserved. With several hundreds of construction workers present on the site including those involved in the train hall construction each day and extensive local subcontractor involvement, the USPS project is slated for completion within ten months.
