ABOUT STEVEN

Steven A. Lipstein is a Partner at Lucosky Brookman LLP and a member of the Corporate and Securities Practice Group. Clients turn to Steven for his expertise on all manner of securities regulations. Steven prides himself on his ability to enable publicly traded clients to list on national exchanges.

Steven is a transactional and regulatory lawyer who focuses on helping take growing micro-cap companies to the next level. When companies are ready, he works closely with them and their investment bank as they navigate the registered offering and listing application process. Steven's work with maturing companies includes representing them in their private and public offerings to maximize the utility of the time that such companies spend on their existing marketplace.

Steven also works with companies on follow-on offerings and mergers and acquisitions and represents banks in their roles as underwriter and placement agent for companies listing or already on national exchanges.

Steven regularly advises issuers and their executives with respect to reporting and other obligations under the Exchange Act of 1934 and NASDAQ's rules.

CORPORATE & SECURITIES

The Firm's Corporate and Securities Practice Group is focused on the small and mid-cap market segment and the ecosystem that encompasses it, including, but not limited to, smaller public and private companies, investment banks, funds, investors and consultants.
