Huntsman Publishes 2019 Sustainability Report

"Innovating Toward a Circular Economy: Transform, Reduce Eliminate" demonstrates role company plays in moving to a more sustainable future

THE WOODLANDS, Texas, June 1, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Huntsman Corporation (NYSE: HUN) has published its 2019 corporate sustainability report titled, "Innovating Toward a Circular Economy: Transform, Reduce Eliminate," on its web site at Huntsman.com/sustainability. The report discusses how Huntsman is adopting a circular mindset in its business.

This GRI-compliant sustainability report includes Huntsman's annual Communication on Progress to the United Nations Global Compact, as well as its first formal materiality assessment and a robust reporting of its environmental, social and governance performance.

"In our operations today, Huntsman is revising manufacturing processes to reduce energy use and CO<sub>2</sub> emissions and to recycle waste byproducts," said Corporate Sustainability Officer Ron Gerrard. "We're also developing new chemistries to use waste as a resource or to eliminate it altogether. In this report, we share how we're already moving from a linear 'cradle-to-grave' approach toward a circular mindset that transforms, reduces and eliminates waste and moves us closer to a more sustainable future.

"We are committed to the principles of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) to provide regular, reliable and transparent reporting on our sustainability performance, and continue to look for ways to elevate our sustainability reporting to better meet the needs of our stakeholders."

This is Huntsman's ninth sustainability report since launching its corporate sustainability initiative in 2010.
