Telkonet Hosts Partner Week at New Wisconsin Headquarters

Channel Partners, Integration Partners, and Employees in Attendance

WAUKESHA, WI -- (Marketwired) -- 08/31/17 -- Telkonet, Inc.(OTCQB: TKOI), a leader in intelligent automation and occupancy-based energy management technology, last week hosted their inaugural Partner Week conference.

Partner Week was created to address the need for increased collaboration and knowledge between Telkonet's channel partners, integration companies, and Telkonet's own technology leaders and team members.

"We had a number of conversations at the HITEC conference, and it was clear from everyone that there was a real desire to put this program together," said Jason Tienor, Telkonet President and Chief Executive Officer. "We saw truly fantastic collaboration, learning, and idea sharing at this inaugural Partner Week, and we look forward to delivering an even better program next year."

Partner Week consisted of learning sessions by Telkonet team members, including CEO Jason Tienor, Engineering & Product Development, Customer Service, Sales, and Marketing; educational discussions from a number of Telkonet integration partners; and evening entertainment that included a Milwaukee River boat cruise and tour at the Harley-Davidson Museum®.

"Partner week was a great experience and opportunity to meet all of the staff at Telkonet. The opportunity to have Resellers, Vendors and Staff together proved to be an invaluable knowledge transfer. Thanks for the great hospitality and we are looking forward to many Partner Weeks to come," said Dominick Calciano, SmartCon Solutions Principal.

Partner Week will take place annually.
