Ball to Showcase Innovative Can and Bottle Portfolio at BevNET Live Summer 2023

WESTMINSTER, Colo., June 13, 2023 /PRNewswire/ -- Ball Corporation (NYSE: BALL) will be showcasing its latest aluminum can and bottle portfolio at the upcoming BevNET Live Summer 2023 from June 14-15 in New York City.

Registered attendees for BevNET Live will learn about Ball's range of "slim" can capabilities including new supply locations for the 5.5oz, 6.8oz, 8.4oz and 250mL can sizes as well as their exclusive Alumi-Tek® aluminum bottles offering. Attendees will also be able to experience the lightweight and cool touch of the Ball Aluminum Cup®.

Ball leads the aluminum beverage packaging industry—having the broadest and most capable manufacturing footprint in the world, the most product offerings, and more than 143 years of packaging innovation.

Nearly 75% of all aluminum ever produced is still in use today, and approximately 70% of all aluminum cans are recycled globally, making the can the world's most recycled packaging product. Due to the infinitely-recyclable nature of aluminum cans, Ball is deeply committed to sustainability and their goals to achieve net zero carbon emissions, improve energy efficiency, and more.

Ball will be sponsoring the BevNET Live Official Happy Hour from 4-6 p.m. on Wednesday, June 14. Attendees are encouraged to stop by to check out the latest in beverage packaging innovations.
