Telephonics Wins Follow-on Contract for Counter IED Jammer Production

FARMINGDALE, N.Y.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Telephonics Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary of the Griffon Corporation (NYSE: GFF), announced today that its Electronic Systems Division received a follow-on contract award in excess of $45M from the Sierra Nevada Corporation for continued production for the Counter Radio Frequency Improvised Explosive Device - Electronic Warfare (CREW) 3.1 Program. This follow-on award extends delivery of the CREW 3.1 devices through March 2010.

"Along with our proven performance, this award solidifies Telephonics' position as the leading manufacturer of this class of critical equipment for our nation's warfighters. Telephonics expects to exceed expectations on this program, based on our prior experience with similar equipment such as the CREW 2.0 mounted jammer effort," said Donald Pastor, President of the Electronic Systems Division. "The entire Telephonics team recognizes the importance of delivering this equipment in saving the lives of our soldiers and the sacrifices they are making for our country."

Telephonics' Electronic Systems Division (ESD) is a world leader in Integrated Security Systems and Products for the Homeland Security and Anti-Terrorism Force Protection market. Electronic Systems also specializes in both the Defense and Civil Air Traffic Control markets for advanced automation systems and secondary surveillance radars. ESD is recognized for its superior technology and ability to rapidly integrate sophisticated system solutions by incorporating state-of-the-art hardware and software designs.
