Apollo Announces Launch of ATLAS SP Partners in Connection with a Close of the Credit Suisse Securitized Products Group Transaction

ATLAS SP Partners Launches as Standalone Securitized Credit Origination Platform to Accelerate Growth in Multi-trillion-dollar Asset Backed Finance Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 08, 2023 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Apollo (NYSE: APO) and Credit Suisse (SIX: CSGN) have completed a substantial first close of their previously announced transaction under which affiliates of Apollo purchased a significant portion of the Securitized Products Group from Credit Suisse (the "Transaction"). A majority of the assets and professionals associated with the Transaction are now part of or managed by ATLAS SP Partners (the "Company"), a new standalone credit firm focused on asset-backed financing and capital markets solutions.

ATLAS SP Partners is a high-growth franchise helping specialty finance companies, financial sponsors, corporates, REITs and a variety of other clients access structured financing and portfolio solutions. The Company is led by CEO Jay Kim, previously Managing Director and Head of Securitized Products at Credit Suisse, and includes a team of more than 200 professionals.

Apollo, through its affiliates, is the majority shareholder of ATLAS SP Partners and serves as a long-term capital partner to the Company, alongside additional third-party capital partners. Forming a diverse and robust capital base is designed to enable ATLAS SP Partners to offer clients an enhanced suite of products and capabilities.

"Asset-backed securitization is used to finance consumer and commercial activity and fuel economic growth in the US and increasingly around the world," said Apollo Co-President Jim Zelter. "Launching ATLAS SP is an exciting and logical extension of that trend – forming a standalone business led by Jay and one of the industry's most knowledgeable and experienced teams. At Apollo, we are excited to partner with ATLAS SP and accelerate our strategy to invest in more long-term, investment grade quality assets for our clients and strategic partners."

"It is an honor to lead ATLAS SP Partners, working alongside my incredible colleagues and with the support of Apollo, to grow a new independent franchise and bring even more innovative solutions to our clients," said Jay Kim, CEO of ATLAS SP Partners. "This is a team that's known for providing a holistic suite of capabilities, from financing to capital markets and distribution services, and we expect to build upon this legacy and bring even more to bear under the ATLAS SP banner with the backing of a diversified, long-term capital base.”

ATLAS SP Partners serves hundreds of clients throughout the growth lifecycle from early stage to mature public companies, providing asset-backed warehouse financing, forward flow and asset purchases, and capital markets and distribution services. Its expertise spans a wide range of asset classes within residential and commercial real estate, and corporate and consumer debt.

ATLAS SP Partners primarily originates high-quality, investment-grade assets that are highly desirable to a broad range of investors and align with the balance sheet needs of Athene and other retirement services companies, which are estimated to hold approximately 95% of their assets in high grade credit instruments.

Certain additional assets and certain international employees are expected to transition from Credit Suisse to the new Company throughout the first half of 2023.
