Southwest Airlines Extends Flight Schedule Through June 6, 2020, With Nonstop Service To Link Hawaii And San Diego Now On-Sale, Purchase Today One-Way For As Low As $129

- San Diego to become carrier's fourth gateway to the Hawaiian Islands in spring 2020, daily nonstop service to Maui begins April 14, service to Oahu begins April 20

- Investment in Baltimore/Washington (BWI) brings more than a dozen additional flights

DALLAS, Oct. 30, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Southwest Airlines Co. (NYSE: LUV) today extended its flight schedule through early June 2020, putting two destinations in Hawaii within quicker reach for the carrier's San Diego Customers.

Aloha, Soon Diego!

Once daily service between San Diego and Kahului on Maui begins April 14, 2020
Once daily service between San Diego and Honolulu on Oahu begins April 20, 2020

In celebration of new nonstop service between San Diego and the Hawaiian Islands, Southwest is offering fares as low as $129 each way on both routes listed above, on certain days of week, for travel between April 14 (for Maui service) and June 4, 2020, and for Honolulu service between April 20 and June 4, 2020. This fare is available for purchase through 11:59 P.M. Pacific Daylight Time today, Oct. 30, 2019. Seats are limited and certain blackout dates apply. (Please see complete fare rules below.)

"We're grateful for the steadfast loyalty of our San Diego Customers and we're adding a Southwest heading to their compass of nonstop options," said Andrew Watterson, Executive Vice President & Chief Revenue Officer for Southwest Airlines.

Additional interisland service is also part of today's flight schedule announcement. Beginning April 14, 2020, Southwest will offer six flights daily in each direction on interisland service between Honolulu and Kahului, an increase from the current offering of four flights directionally.

Inclusive of today's announcements, Southwest will offer 28 flights daily between California and the Islands, and 38 departures a day on interisland service. (See below for a full view of Southwest Airlines' service for Hawaii.)

More for Merrie Monarch Festival

During the 2020 Merrie Monarch festival--a world-famous celebration of Hawaiian culture, art, music, and hula that unites people from across the Islands in Hilo--Southwest will offer additional service between Honolulu and Hilo with a total six flights each way daily from Wed., April 15, through Sat., April 18, 2020, and seven flights each way on Sun., April 19, 2020.

"This additional service not only will allow more locals to travel for the festival while experiencing our unique combination of value and hospitality, it highlights our commitment to serve the communities of the Islands in a way that delivers on our purpose of connecting people to what's important in their lives," Watterson said.

In celebration of new and additional service among the Islands, Southwest also is offering interisland travel in select markets for as low as $29 one-way from Nov. 11, 2019 through March 4, 2020. This fare is available today through 11:59 p.m. Pacific Standard Time on Nov. 4, 2019, for travel on certain days of week with a 21-day advance purchase. Seats are limited and certain blackout dates apply. (Please see complete fare sale rules below.)

More Springtime Travel Options

Next spring, travelers will have more options for travel to and from Baltimore/Washington (BWI). The carrier will add 17 additional departures from BWI on established and popular routes, giving Customers nearly 240 departures a day.

The carrier also is augmenting nonstop service between Lubbock and Houston, as well as Amarillo and Houston. Both markets currently operate nonstop only on Sundays and become a nonstop option on weekdays in mid-April 2020.
