"Third quarter sales were weaker than expected," stated Allen Carlson, President and CEO. "Demand is down in all geographic markets, and the depreciation of global currencies relative to the U.S. dollar continue to influence performance. Third quarter sales in the Americas were down 14%. Asian demand decreased by 17%, driven primarily by the weakening of the South Korean economy. European sales were down 8%, with 5% related to currency. As expected, the strong U.S. Dollar continued to negatively impact sales in Q3 by an estimated $1.8M and reduced EPS by $0.07 over last year."

"It is my sense that we are near the bottom of this difficult economic cycle," commented Carlson. "Given where we believe we are in the business cycle, Sun's focus is on investments to drive future growth. Our efforts are concentrated on:

- Operational execution - We are cross training in production areas, evaluating manufacturing processes for additional improvements and consistently seeking out opportunities to further our automation efforts. This down cycle affords us the opportunity to implement process improvements.
- Product Development - Sun is renowned for its broad scope of products which offer a variety of solutions to meet today's most demanding hydraulic challenges. We continue to release innovative products, specifically in the electro-hydraulic market. The introduction of the new Digital Logic Valves (DLV) has our customers exploring where they can apply this product to solve problems that go beyond traditional cartridge valve applications. The DLV's combination of small size and weight, efficient power consumption and high speed opens doors to markets in agriculture, alternative energy, emergency response, standby systems -- any application that demands low-power, portable, reliable fluid power control. The DLV is the kind of smart product innovation that creates powerful opportunities for both Sun and its customers.

- Market Penetration - We are growing our worldwide marketing resources to reach more customers by adding field application engineers in all regions -- the Americas, Europe and Asia."

Concluding, Carlson remarked, "Market share gains are made in the beginning of the business cycle and to be prepared requires planning and investment at the bottom of the cycle. When the economy does recover, and it will, Sun will be positioned to respond to customer demand with the superior product and service performance that has become our hallmark."

Outlook

Fourth quarter 2015 revenues are expected to be approximately $44 million, down 20% from the fourth quarter of 2014. Earnings per share are estimated to be $0.17 to $0.19 compared to $0.39 in the same period a year ago. This is a result of decreased demand, absorption of fixed costs and currency effects. Currency is responsible for $1.7M of the decline in revenues and approximately $0.06 of the decline in earnings per share in the Q4 estimates. While we expect today's softened demand to continue into 2016, we foresee business conditions strengthening during the year. With the expectation that the down cycle will be short lived, it is imperative that we focus on investments for future growth.

FORWARD-LOOKING INFORMATION

Certain oral statements made by management from time to time and certain statements contained herein that are not historical facts are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and, because such statements involve risks and uncertainties, actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements, including those in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations are statements regarding the intent, belief or current expectations, estimates or projections of the Company, its Directors or its Officers about the Company and the industry in which it operates, and assumptions made by management, and include among other items, (i) the Company's strategies regarding growth, including its intention to develop new products; (ii) the Company's financing plans; (iii) trends affecting the Company's financial condition or results of operations; (iv) the Company's ability to continue to control costs and to meet its liquidity and other financing needs; (v) the declaration and payment of dividends; and (vi) the Company's ability to respond to changes in customer demand domestically and internationally, including as a result of standardization. Although the Company believes that its expectations are based on reasonable assumptions, it can give no assurance that the anticipated results will occur.

Important factors that could cause the actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements include, among other items, (i) the economic cyclicity of the capital goods industry in general and the hydraulic valve and manifold industry in particular, which directly affect customer orders, lead times and sales volume; (ii) conditions in the capital markets, including the interest rate environment and the availability of capital; (iii) changes in the competitive marketplace that could affect the Company's revenue and/or cost bases, such as increased competition, lack of qualified engineering, marketing, management or other personnel, and increased labor and raw materials costs; (iv) changes in technology or customer requirements, such as standardization of the cavity into which screw-in cartridge valves must fit, which could render the Company's products or technologies noncompetitive or obsolete; (v) new product introductions, product sales mix and the geographic mix of sales nationally and internationally; and (vi) changes relating to the Company's international sales, including changes in regulatory requirements or tariffs, trade or currency restrictions, fluctuations in exchange rates, and tax and collection issues. Further information relating to factors that could cause actual results to differ from those anticipated is included but not limited to information under the heading "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in the Company's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 26, 2015, and under the heading "Business" and particularly under the subheading, "Business Risk Factors" in the Company's Form 10-K for the year ended December 27, 2014. The Company disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
