LOS ANGELES, CA, Aug. 01, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- High Times, the most well-known, globally recognized brand in cannabis, today announced its headlining act for its upcoming Cannabis Cup event in Oklahoma taking place at the Lost Lakes Amphitheater in Oklahoma City from August 24-25.

The headlining act for this year's Oklahoma Cannabis Cup is Slightly Stoopid, the Ocean Beach, California-based band known for its versatile musical style that spans folk, rock, reggae and blues and has been making music for over a decade.

"We're proud to bring Oklahoma City its first-ever official Cannabis Cup event this summer, with prominent musical talent and hundreds of vendors including an array of brands across the cannabis landscape," said Kraig Fox, CEO of High Times. "Events like the Oklahoma Cannabis Cup are integral in bringing together the local community of cannabis enthusiasts, medical users and brands in one place, while providing us with the ability to collaborate and connect with key leaders in the industry across the country."

In addition to the musical talent headlining this year's event, the Cannabis Cup in Oklahoma will be sponsored by New Leaf Medicinals – a Chickasha-based medical marijuana provider focused on providing high quality products and using sought after genetics to meet patients' needs – in addition to Lotus Gold Dispensary, an extensive dispensary chain with 29 stores across Oklahoma whose mission is to educate citizens, consumers and medical professionals about the benefits of medical-grade THC products, and its sister stores CBD Plus USA, whose 50 stores follow a similar mission for non-psychoactive cannabinoids.

High Times has been staging Cannabis Cup events for more than three decades and holds over a dozen live events a year spanning Europe, the United States and Canada. Each of High Times' events draw tens of thousands of attendees who gather to celebrate the cannabis lifestyle, music and products. Additional offerings at this year's event will include High Times' exhibitor village, which is made up of hundreds of brands from across the cannabis landscape, from growers to products to artists, as well as educational seminars, art, food and much more.
