GOLETA, CA / ACCESSWIRE / August 1, 2022 /Aeluma, Inc. (OTC PINK:ALMU), a semiconductor company specializing in scalable, cost-effective sensor technologies for advanced LiDAR solutions, announced today that its founder & CEO Jonathan Klamkin was interviewed on July 28, 2022 on NOW Tonight with Joshua Johnson, the daily showcase from NBC News NOW.

To watch a replay of the interview, please go to: <https://aeluma.com/investors>. The focus of the interview was on the CHIPS Act and how innovative U.S.-based semiconductor companies like Aeluma would stand to benefit from the bill.

With its proprietary technology that combines high performance compound semiconductor nanomaterials with mass market silicon manufacturing, Aeluma is developing devices for sensors and communications. A primary Company focus is infrared sensors for the automotive LiDAR, industrial, and transportation sectors.

About Aeluma, Inc.

Aeluma (www.aeluma.com) develops novel optoelectronic devices for sensing and communications applications. Aeluma has pioneered a technique to manufacture devices using high performance compound semiconductor materials on large diameter silicon wafers that are commonly used for mass market microelectronics. The technology has the potential to enhance performance and provide a path to cost-effective, large-scale manufacturing, both of which are critical for future LiDAR and other sensor applications. Aeluma is developing a streamlined business model from its headquarters in Goleta, CA that has a state-of-the-art manufacturing cleanroom.
