Rennova Health Partners With Certainty Health to Deliver Direct to Consumer Molecular Testing for Psychiatric Disorders

WEST PALM BEACH, FL -- (Marketwired) -- 06/27/17 -- Rennova Health, Inc. (NASDAQ: RNVA), (NASDAQ: RNVAZ) ("Rennova" or the "Company"), a vertically integrated provider of industry-leading diagnostics and supportive software solutions for healthcare providers, announced today an agreement between its subsidiary Advanced Molecular Services Group, Inc. (AMS Group) and Certainty Health, LLC, a pioneer in cloud-based mobile applications for patient-focused health information. The partnership will develop next generation smartphone tools to enable patients, families, and their healthcare teams to confidently assess the importance of a patients' genetic background in treatment decisions for various psychiatric diseases.

"We look forward to working with Rennova Health to expand a mobile precision medicine platform to immediately address the unmet needs of patients and their caregivers for relevant molecular information impacting psychiatry today," stated Dr. Chris Yoo, President and COO of Certainty Health. "Rennova's incredibly rich and growing databases of pharmacogenomic drug metabolism data represents over a decade of real-world diagnostic results for multiple diseases and together with Rennova, we will democratize access to this knowledge for the benefit of patients."

Under the terms of the agreement, Rennova will market consumer-facing genetic tests developed by its AMS Group using the Certainty Health brand. The first products to be offered through the mobile platform will include tests that can determine how an individual might respond to a number of pharmaceutical drugs used to treat psychiatric disorders. In the U.S. according to NAMI, the National Alliance on Mental Illness, 43.8 million people are being treated for psychiatric issues and an estimated 66% more people go untreated, according to the World Health Organization. The collaboration will deliver test results for these patients, physicians, and other stakeholders in the circle of care team to increase the chances that the right drug will be chosen for the right patient in the right amount.

AMS Group projects general availability of the platform and online ordering of its molecular tests by the fourth quarter of 2017. The group's proprietary technology combines patented laboratory testing results with artificial intelligence interpretation to provide treatment options for patients and their physicians.

"Precision medicine is great science, but still too expensive for the average family. Patients and their families need access to advances in diagnostic technologies and interpretation. Rennova's AMS Group is bringing its patented pharmacogenomic platform directly to consumers," said Dr. Scott Jenkins, CEO of Rennova's Advanced Molecular Services Group. "Today the cost of and access to these tests is prohibitive to the people who need it most. Modern ecommerce and mobile tools will bring immediate access to these life-changing diagnostics and tools to everyone."
