As the youngest member of the U.S. Olympic team at the Tokyo Games in 2020, Katie Grimes was just 15 years old when she first represented her country in the international pool. Now 18, Katie heads to Paris after becoming the first athlete to qualify for the U.S. Olympic Team with her thrilling bronze medal finish at the 2023 FINA World Championships.

"Katie Grimes is an accomplished young swimmer known for her remarkable achievements in the pool, and Travel + Leisure Co. couldn't be more thrilled to sponsor her in this summer's Olympic Games," said Scott Cavanaugh, vice president, Strategic Partnerships and Licensing, Travel + Leisure Co. "We look forward to working with Katie as our athlete ambassador and cheering her on this summer."

As one of the youngest two-time Olympians in history, Katie has captivated audiences with her extraordinary talent and unwavering determination. Now, she brings her passion for adventure and travel to her role as an athlete ambassador for Travel + Leisure Co. on her journey to Paris 2024.

"The Travel + Leisure approach to providing top-tier hospitality and inspiring amazing travel experiences makes them the perfect travel partner for my journey to the Olympics,” said Katie Grimes, U.S. Olympic Swimmer. “I’ve already been able to enjoy some unique hospitality experiences in my hometown of Las Vegas, and I look forward to more exciting opportunities as Travel + Leisure continues supporting my goals—both in and out of the pool.”

Katie Grimes is represented by CG Sports Company. For more information about Katie, visit www.cgsportsco.com.
