Allied Gaming & Entertainment Reports Nasdaq Communication Related to Procedural Delays

Delisting notice as a result of actions taken by dissident stockholder

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Allied Gaming & Entertainment, Inc. (NASDAQ: AGAE) (the "Company" or "AGAE"), a global experiential entertainment company, today announced that on June 18, 2025, it received a notice from the staff of The Nasdaq Stock Market ("Staff") indicating that, based on the Company's non-compliance with Listing Rule 5620(a), which requires holding an annual meeting of shareholders within twelve months of the end of the Company's fiscal year end, the Staff determined to initiate procedures to delist the Company's securities unless the Company requests an appeal to a Nasdaq Hearings Panel (the "Panel") by June 25, 2025. Additionally, the Staff notified the Company of its non-compliance with Listing Rule 5250(c)(1) for failing to timely file its Form 10-Q for the period ended March 31, 2025 serves as a separate and additional basis for delisting.

On June 25, 2025, the Company submitted a hearing request and extended stay request, which will stay any delisting of the Company's common stock pending the decision of the Panel or any extension the Panel may provide.

Importantly, the Company wishes to inform shareholders that these administrative delays were not the result of business performance or internal deficiencies, but were the unfortunate collateral consequence of actions taken by activist shareholder Knighted Pastures LLC ("Knighted"), led by Mr. Roy Choi.

Over the past 18 months, Knighted has launched two lawsuits against the Company, both of which demanded expedited judicial proceedings. These lawsuits required significant allocation of management's time and legal resources, disrupted corporate operations, and materially delayed the Company's ability to finalize disclosures and organize its annual meeting on the originally scheduled timeline in 2024. The Company believes these lawsuits were designed to damage other shareholders' confidence in the Company and its board of directors, and obstruct the execution of its long-term strategy, for the purpose of pursuing Mr. Choi's personal interest.

Despite these disruptions, Allied remains committed to transparency, compliance, and protecting shareholder value. The Company has made meaningful operational progress in 2024 and 2025, including launching new entertainment initiatives and achieving revenue growth, and is confident in its strategic trajectory.

AGAE's combined 2024/2025 annual meeting of stockholders is now scheduled to take place on August 4, 2025.

AGAE will take all appropriate steps to remain listed on Nasdaq and will continue to act in the best interests of its shareholders.
