

Equinix Appoints Karl Strohmeyer as President of the Americas

REDWOOD CITY, Calif.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Equinix, Inc. (Nasdaq: EQIX), the global interconnection and data center company, today announced that it has appointed Karl Strohmeyer as president of the Americas. In this role, Strohmeyer will be responsible for the management, strategy and growth plan for Equinix in the Americas, with P&L accountability for the region.

Highlights / Key Facts

- Strohmeyer joins Equinix from Level 3 Communications, where he was group vice president for the North American enterprise group. In this role he was responsible for building and overseeing a high-performing sales force of more than 1,200 generating approximately $2.5 billion in annual revenue. Prior to this role, Strohmeyer led the Global Carrier Channel for Level 3 and managed sales teams responsible for more than $1 billion in carrier and service provider revenue. During his 12-year tenure at Level 3, Strohmeyer held several executive positions, supervising commercial services and large deal teams, overseeing customer operations and client service, and managing strategic relationships with other companies, including channel partners.
- Prior to Level 3, Mr. Strohmeyer worked at NetRail, where he was first an executive vice president for operations—during which time he introduced four new products to market and was part of a team that raised $85 million in capital. Later at NetRail, he was an executive vice president for corporate development, helping manage the sale of the company.
- Before joining NetRail, Strohmeyer held various positions with BellSouth including business development manager, assistant market development manager and national accounts executive.
- Strohmeyer earned a Bachelor of Science in business administration from the University of New Hampshire and a master's degree in international business administration from Mercer University.
