Amesite Announces Launch of Active Shooter Preparedness App with World Renowned Expert Chris Grollnek

New App Addresses Large Law Enforcement and Other Government Agencies Market – and Beyond

DETROIT, March 06, 2024 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Amesite Inc. (NASDAQ: AMST), a leading artificial intelligence software company offering a cloud-based learning platform for business and education markets, announces the launch of its mobile safety application, slated for March 31, 2024, to offer Active Shooter Preparedness content developed together with world renowned expert Chris Grollnek.

The application will serve Grollnek's expansive audience and customer base, including Fortune 100 and 500 companies, small to large corporations and businesses, the entire government sector, public entities, and other organizations. This broad client base reflects the universal need for effective crisis response training across all sectors of society.

Chris Grollnek, a globally respected authority on active shooter situations and prevention strategies and founder of the Active Shooter Prevention Project (ASPP), brings his extensive experience to the platform. "Last year alone, we delivered over 150 live trainings, logging 290,000 air miles traveling worldwide to teach, train, and consult. Our training from the United States Attorney's Office to the Department of Justice was fielded in 2023, and was made available to all 115,000 DOJ employees. With the Amesite safety app, we will extend our reach to a global audience that needs our support, making critical training more accessible and immediate," stated Grollnek.

Executive Director for the Active Shooter Prevention Project (ASPP), Glenn G. Norling, added, "Chris has traveled everywhere, including keynoting at the World Police Summit in Dubai in 2023. This partnership with Amesite and the development of this app now gives us a significant leap forward in furthering our mission. This technology transcends international boundaries, allowing us to further deliver our message."

Dr. Ann Marie Sastry, CEO of Amesite, stated, "Global thought leaders like Chris need a platform to deliver online consulting and learning, and Amesite is that home. Our AI-powered platform offers best-in-class infrastructure and learning programs that are quickly and efficiently deployed. We are thrilled to support Chris in helping keep organizations and communities safer, 24/7 and globally."
